AFFIDAVITS FROM AMERICAN SURVIVORS INCREASE TENSION OVER SINKING OF THE ARABIC

Vessel Was Torpedoed Without Warning and at Least Some Americans Lost.

ONE POINT NOT CLEAR

Was Change of Liner's Course Misinterpreted by Submarine Commander?

Decision as to Government's Action Rests on Wilson.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Tension increased in official quarters here today when consular messages forwarding affidavits of American survivors of the British Liner Arabic brought definite information that the vessel was torpedoed without warning and that at least some Americans had been lost.

It seemed that but one point remained to be cleared up—whether the Arabic attempted to ram the submarine or whether a change of the liner's course to assist the already sinking British steamer Dunsley nearby was misinterpreted by the German submarine commander as a hostile approach.

The attitude of the American government for the moment is receptive, anxiously awaiting accurate details and reserving judgment as to whether the action was "deliberately unfriendly." The final decision rests with President Wilson.

Details From Abroad Lacking.

The President motored to Philadelphia today to see an oculist. He had consulted Secretary Lansing before leaving and conferred with him again tonight. No statement was forthcoming as details from abroad were lacking, but everywhere in official quarters the grave aspects of the case were discussed. The general trend of comment was that the American government had reached the point where it must now decide whether it would sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

In addition to awaiting information from the American survivors, the embassy in London and American consuls, officials expect some word from Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, to indicate whether the attack without warning on the Arabic had the sanction of the German government. Should Germany offer an explanation asserting there were qualifying circumstances, such as an attempt by the Arabic to escape or ram the submarine, the disposition on Germany's part to discuss the case, would in all likelihood be construed here as a disavowal of any intention deliberately to violate the principles for which the United States has contended. Officials here have found it difficult to reconcile the act with previous declarations from Germany that the purpose of the submarine warfare was to prevent the carriage of munitions of war to the Allies. The Arabic was found for an American port and carried, therefore, no contraband.

Facts Perhaps Censored.

The censorship in Great Britain of press dispatches on the disaster created the impression that perhaps facts were being withheld which might affect the case vitally. Official messages, however, are not subject to consorship and confidence prevailed that within another 24 hours the circumstances of the torpedoing would be definitely learned. For a while today some of the officials, hearing that the Arabic was convoyed for a time on her outward journey from Liverpool, thought this might have caused the German submarine to disregard the rule of visit and search and the giving of warning. Later, however, the statement of an American survivor, transmitted officially, told how the lifeboats drifted four hours before being rescued. This was regarded as destroying the theory that convoys could have been anywhere in the vicinity when the Arabic was sunk. Even if the Arabic was convoyed part way it would not affect her status, in the opinion of the lawyers in the State Department, who declare numerous precedents and decisions establish that it is only the actual presence of the convoy with a merchantman at the time the latter is encountered which can alter the rule of visit and search.

Theory of Ramming Scouted.

The theory that the Arabic may have attempted to ram the German submarine was scouted by naval officers of high rank, who said the prevailing impression that a large passenger vessel would ram a submarine was erroneous. The small undersea boats can maneuver about so quickly, they explained, as to be able to torpedo the larger vessels without difficulty.

Officials also thought that no vessels of large tonnage would ever attempt, especially with passengers aboard, to take such a risk.

TWO AMERICANS GO DOWN WITH ARABIC

At Least Five Passengers and 40 of Crew Drown

NINE OTHERS MISSING

Captain and Officers Declare Torpedo Was Fired From Submarine as the Arabic Was Going to Rescue of the Steamer Dunsley.

London, Aug. 20.—At least five passengers, two of whom were Americans, and forty members of the crew, lost their lives, when the White Star liner Arabic was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off Fastnet yesterday morning. Nine other passengers are missing and are believed to have perished.

The two Americans who went down with the ship were Mrs. Josephine Bruguiere, of New York, and Edmund T. Woods. Mrs. Bruguiere was thrown into the water and was kept afloat for some time by her son Louis, who was forced to relinquish his hold when he was struik by a piece of wreckage. Nothing was seen of Woods after the steamer was struck.

Most of the missing members of the crew belonged to the engineer's staff. They remained at their posts and went down with the ship. Captain Finch and the other officers say the submarine gave them no warning. They declare the torpedo was fired as they were going to the rescue of the steamer Dunsley, which had just been torpedoed, presumably by the same submarine.

That the loss of life was not much heavier was due to the preparations made by the officers in view of the possibility of an attack while passing through the "war zone," to the fine weather which prevailed and to the splendid discipline maintained by the crew.

The Americans were cared for at Queenstown by the United States consul. With the other passengers they left Ireland for England tonight.

SEABOARD TO LET CONTRACT.

Capt of New Shops at Portsmouth, Va., Will be $500,000.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 20.—It was announced today that the Seaboard Air Line Railway would tomorrow award contract for the erection of new shops at Portsmouth, Va., to cost $500,000. The force of mechanics will be increased from 500 to 1,400, it is stated.

Rome, Aug. 20, via Paris.—The anniversary of the death of Pope Pius X one year ago was observed today with the celebration of masses in the crypt of St. Peters, where the body of the pontiff is buried near the Tomb of St. Peter. Cardinal Merry del Val officiated at the first mass, in the presence of Pope Benedict.

APPREHENSION FELT BY LINER'S OWNERS

Fear That Steamer Lapland Has Met Fate.

NEWS VERY INDEFINITE

Apparently British Censors Silenced Wires to White Star Line—Rumors That Leyland Liner Nicosian Had Been Sunk.

REPORTED SINKING OF BOVIC CLAIMED UNTRUE

London, Aug. 20.—The report that the steamer Bovic has been sunk is untrue, according to the Press Association, which says the steamer arrived at Liverpool today and proceeded to Manchester.

New York, Aug. 20.—The British censor apparently silenced today the wires leading to the White Star Line here from England. Only one dispatch relating to the sinking of the Arabic—a message detailing certain changes in previous lists of survivors and missing—escaped his blue pencil.

The lack of definite news from abroad was balanced by a host of rumors that tried the nerves of officials and left them tonight in a keen state of apprehension as to the fate of at least one more large steamer in or near the war zone, the Lapland, which sailed August 12 for Liverpool from this port with 318 passengers, including 13 Americans, and a capacity cargo of war munitions and other supplies.

Steam Bovic Reported Sunk.

In one instance a vague report of disaster to another White Star vessel proved true. This was the report that the liner Bovic, a freighter, departing from New York August 8 with a cargo, but no passengers, for Manchester had met the Arabic's fate.

Word that the Bovic had been sunk was received in a press dispatch here from London at 5:38 p .m. today. Nearly four hours previously a private shipping firm in this city had received cable advices reporting the sinking. At 6:30 o'clock tonight, however, the White Star Line had heard nothing official concerning her.

Rumors of Another Sinking.

A third report dealt with the steamer Nicosian, of the Leyland Line, a subsidiary of the International Mercantile Marine Company, owners of the White Star Line. A rumor that she, too, has been destroyed by a German U-boat was current, but like many similar rumors that agitated ship owners here recently, lacked verification.

Coupled with this rumor, whose source could not be learned, was the

What American Newspapers Say Of The Sinking Of The Arabic

Asheville Citizen: If it should prove true that American citizens have been wantonly slain on the high seas, as in the case of the Lusitania, it is difficult to see how the government at Washington can content itself with merely viewing the repetition of such acts of piracy as "unfriendly."

Richmond Times-Dispatch: The destruction of the Arabic is a complete answer to the last note dispatched by Washington to Berlin. Germany has flouted America's solemn worning, and again, in violation of humanity and law, wantonly destroyed life. She must take the consequences.

Bristol Herald-Courier: While the full details of the sinking of the Arabic have not been received, the incident has the appearance of German defiance of the American government. In all probability a grave crisis has arrived.

Roanoke Times: If American lives were lost in the disaster that occurred off the Irish coast Thursday morning, it is difficult to see how our government can with honor avoid a rupture with Germany. Negotiations were in progress between the two countries as a result of the sinking of the Lusitania under similar circumstances three months ago. The last note of this government to Berlin has not been answered. Are we to regard the sinking of the Arabic as Germany's reply?

Lynchburg News: Upon the evidence of those aboard the Arabic it seems that Germany has deliberately, wickedly, insolently invited Washington to decline to sustain further diplomatic relations with Berlin and hence precipitate a situation surcharged with extreme gravity.

Petersburg Index-Appeal: We believe that the overwhelming majority of the people of the United States will be found ready to give whole-souled support to President Wilson should he determine to break off diplomatic relations with a government which not only shows so little regard for our friendship, but manifests such meagre regard for the "decent opinion of mankind."

Greensboro News: We are reminded that it is the people of the United States who are taking a fearful risk; standing constantly in the presence of a great danger. Our notes to Germany must be taken very seriously; the final word on the "principle" has been spoken. That being true, it will take more than a mere streak of luck to keep us out of the war.

Charlotte Observer: The torpedoing of the Arabic, if without warning, was in absolute disregard of the American position so sternly and unequivocally stated in President Wilson's latest note to Germany. If an American life was lost, the torpedoing was a "deliberately unfriendly act."

Danville Register: If telegraphic reports that Americans were killed in the sinking of the Arabic are confirmed, our government should promptly sever diplomatic relations with the Imperial German government and take charge of all interned German ships in our harbors.

Raleigh News and Observer: If the sinking without warning of the White Star liner Arabic by a German submarine escapes being in the class of a "deliberately unfriendly" act, the appearance now is that it will be by a hair's breadth, for the accounts of the torpedoing of that vessel which have reached this country are such as to cause the belief that the act was a wanton and deliberate one.

In the absence of full details there should be no hasty forming of opinions. We may be certain President Wilson meant exactly what he said, when in his note to Germany he stated that the rights of the people of this country would be protected and safeguarded at all costs, from whatever quarter these were assailed.

Chicago Daily News: The case of the United States government is the case of civilization. The issues involved have been clearly outlined.

Minneapolis Journal: By sinking the Arabic without warning Germany has given the United States final notice of her determination to persist in the role of an outlaw nation. She has united the civilized nations against her.

Atlanta Constitution: Before forming judgment, it is our duty to make a full and complete investigation of the

GEORGIA OFFICIALS AND COURTS ALONE TO DEAL WITH MOB

Harris Says Citizens Will Resent Advice and Interference from Outside.

WILL CALL CONFERENCE

Governor and Officials of Cobb and Baldwin Counties to Lay Plan

Atlanta, Aug. 20.—Governor Nat E. Harris let it be known today that the people of Georgia would resent outside interference or advice in dealing with conditions growing out of the lynching of Leo M. Frank.

"The lynching," he said, "was a crime against the civilization of our state, and a blot upon Georgia's fair name that cannot be erased. None of us approve of mob violence or lynch law and all of us regret what has happened. I have and will continue to exert every power at my command to bring the members of the mob to justice.

"But if the members of the mob are brought to justice it will be through the courageous efforts of Georgia officials and courts, supported by the sentiment of the citizens of the State and not through the newspaper editorials and resolutions of indignation and offers of rewards coming from other states.

More Harm Than Good.

"I am afraid these things will only serve to aggravate a situation that already is deeply humiliating to our people, and if they continue will eventuate in great deal more harm than good by defeating the efforts of the state to apprehend the guilty parties."

The governor has received many telegrams and letters during the past ten days urging him to take decisive action.

So far as the public is advised, the only forward step taken today in connection with the lynching was the announcement that the governor soon would ask the officials of Baldwin and Cobb counties to confer with him soon as to future action. The State prison farm is in Baldwin county. Frank's death, so far as known, occurred in Cobb county. The superior court judge, the solicitor and the sheriff of the two counties will be invited to the conference.

Place of Lynching Questioned.

There has been some doubt among the officials, according to common report, as to which should take the initiative in discovering the identity of the so-called "vigilance committee," which abducted Frank from Milledgeville and later left his body hanging near Marietta.

It is contended on behalf of the Milledgeville authorities that the actual killing of Frank did not take place in that county and therefore the real prosecution of the case would not lie in their hands. On behalf of the Cobb county authorities it is argued that the officials there did not come in actual contact with the mob and were unaware of the crime until the perpetrators had made their escape.

Governor Harris said he would urge the judges and solicitors to bring the matter before their respective grand juries and would ask the sheriffs to co-operate in every possible way. No grand jury sessions are imminent in either county, and so far as could be learned tonight no special sessions are contemplated.

Apparently the only investigation of the lynching actually under way is that

GREENVILLE, S. C., HIT BY TERRIFIC CYCLONE

Negro Killed Beneath Ruins of His Home.

Outlying Districts Cannot Be Communicated With—Velocity Reached Around 100 Miles and Many Trees Uprooted.

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 20.—Greenville and vicinity was visited today by a terrific cyclone when the wind is said to have reached a velocity of well around 100 miles an hour. Wires are down in all directions and news from the outlying districts cannot be secured. Property damage here will run into the thousands of dollars, which cannot be estimated until fuller reports are received.

One negro was killed when he was buried beneath the ruins of his home, which was crushed, though it was a heavy eight-room house. Eight or ten other houses in the immediate vicinity of the home were wrecked while trees were uprooted in a path of about 100 yards wide and half a mile long through the eastern section of the city.

The cyclone was funnel shape and came into the city within five minutes after it was first discovered. The oldest citizens state that they have never seen it so dark, lights being necessary, though it was only 5 o'clock. The air became very oppressive and dense and then the storm broke.

CARRANZA TO MOVE GOVERNMENT SEAT

Preparing to go at Once to Mexico City

TO REJECT PROPOSALS

According to Information His Reply to Conference Will Urge Recognition of His Government as Surest Guaranty of Peace.

Washington, Aug. 20.—General Carranza, it was learned here today, is preparing to move from Vera Cruz to Mexico City at once and to have his government established in the old capital by the time his response to the Pan-American peace appeal reaches Washington next week.

Private advices from Carranza to his Washington advisers today said he expected to be in Mexico City Monday.

According to all information reaching here, Carranza in replying to Secretary Lansing and the Latin-American diplomats who offered to aid in restoring order in Mexico will reject the peace conference proposal and urge recognition of his government as the surest guaranty of peace. That Carranza's generals intend to let their chief answer the conferees for them became apparent today when the Carranza agency made public responses from four of them, including General Aguilar, governor of Vera Cruz, stating that it would be a breach of discipline for the generals to answer independently.

Jose M. Cardozo, Brazilian minister to Mexico, was welcomed here today by Secretary Lansing, who expressed the thanks of the United States for his untiring efforts in looking after American affairs in Mexico for the last year. Tomorrow Mr. Cardozo will meet President Wilson and discuss the Mexican situation with him.

BOOKER T. RE-ELECTED.

President for Sixteenth Term of National Negro Business League.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 20.—Dr. Booker T. Washington, principal of Tuskegee Institute, was re-elected today president of National Negro Business League and of the National Negro Business League, for his sixteenth term. Other officers also were re-elected by acclamation.

Robert R. Moton, president of the Negro Organization Society of Virginia and commandant at Hampton Institute, said in the closing address that the league expressed concretely the spirit of Booker T. Washington. He urged the members of his race to respect themselves, to follow their leaders and, above all, to believe in one another.

STRIKE CALLED OFF

Workers at Dupont Plant Get Employment in Flooded Texas District.

Petersburg, Va., Aug. 20.—As there will be no strikers to maintain the strike among the electrical workers at the Dupont plant at Hopewell, Va., owing to the fact that they have secured better employment elsewhere, J. J. Purcell, representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical works, has decided to call it off next Monday. Mr. Purcell declares that by that time every striker in Petersburg will have left for Texas to go to work in the storm stricken district.

GALVESTON BEGINS TO MAKE REPAIRS

Wire Service Restored and Fresh Water Running

33 LIVES WERE LOST

Quick Restoration of Railroad Traffic is Planned—Storm More Severe Than in 1900, But Loss Was Much Smaller.

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 20.—Wire service was restored to Galveston today by the Western Union. The first wire message out of the city since Monday was an Associated Press dispatch.

Galveston's known loss of life was eight killed in the city proper and 25 in the low sections on the western portion of the island. There is plenty of food in the city.

Mayor Fisher said today the causeway will be re-built at once, "stronger and better than ever." It was estimated it will cost $750,000 to repair the damage.

Fresh water was started running into the city mains this morning from Altoona, the city's water reservoir, 18 miles away on the mainland. Since Monday the people had been drinking water from wells and a serious impairment of health was feared.

Plans for quick restoration of railroad traffic were made at a meeting of representatives of all the railroads entering Galveston today.

The people of Galveston are in good spirits despite the damage and inconvenience.

Last night the city was in complete darkness. Several days were expected to elapse before electric lights and gas would be turned on.

It is agreed that the severity of the storm and its duration was much more intense than in 1900. In this storm the wind blew continuously for 36 hours, while in 1900 it was all over in between six to eight hours. Despite the greater severity of this year's storm, the loss was small compared with the 1900 disaster.

TWO MORE VICTIMS.

Bodies of Attorney and Grandson Found in Galveston Bay.

Beaumont, Texas, Aug. 20.—Two more deaths were added to the list of victims when the bodies of Hugh Jackson, an attorney and wealthy land owner of Beaumont, and his grandson, C. C. Roberts, Jr., were found floating in Galveston bay near Jackson's ranch

STORM STRIKES ST. LOUIS.

Hundreds Driven From Homes by Heaviest Downpour in City's History.

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—The storm that devastated the Texas Gulf coast Monday and Tuesday, sweeping northward, struck St. Louis with diminished velocity last night and today, bringing with it the heaviest downpour of rain in the history of the city and causing a flood that drove hundreds of city and suburban residents from their homes. Up to 5 o'clock tonight the rainfall since the storm began was 5.95 inches. Gusts of wind swept the city all day, but at no time reached cyclonic proportions. The police were

NOVOGEORGIEVSK HAS SUCCUMBED TO GERMAN ARTILLERY

Quantity of War Material and 700 Guns Captured With the Fortress.

NEAR TO BREST-LITOVSK

Loss of This Point Considered Graver Misfortune Than Loss of Warsaw.

GERMAN FLEET ALREADY IN THE GULF OF RIGA

Petrograd, Aug. 20 (via London, Aug. 21).—A German fleet has penetrated the Gulf of Riga and is engaged with Russian warships defending the coast, says an official statement here tonight.

London, Aug. 20.—The garrison of the fortress of Novogeorgievsk, which was left behind by Grand Duke Nicholas when he commenced the evacuation of Poland to delay the advance of the German invaders, after holding to its task for a fortnight, has succumbed to the heavy siege artillery of the Germans which has made every fort so far attacked by it untenable. Berlin today announced the capture of the fortress with its 700 guns and a large quantity of war material.

The spoils have not yet been estimated, but they probably are large, as the Russians hoped the earthworks around the fortified camp would enable it to hold out much longer than it did. Military observers now believe the other Russian fortresses, such as Brest-Litovsk, Grodno and Ossowetz, either will be captured or given up.

Riga and Railway Objective.

After the fall of Kovno, Field Marshall von Hindenburg's army commenced again an offensive along the whole front from the Gulf of Riga to Kovno, with the object of taking Riga and the whole Warsaw-Petrograd railway from Vilna northward. He is meeting with stubborn resistence and may be denied even the possession of Riga, unless the German fleet succeeds in entering the Gulf of Riga.

South of Kovno as far as Grodno the Russians are offering fresh resistance in hope of preventing or delaying the envelopment of the northern flank of the Brest-Letovsk line.

There seemingly is danger of this line being forced by direct attack. Six Austro-German armies, strengthened by the corps which have been investing Novogeorgievsk, are converging on the Russian center behind the Bug and along the railway from Bhest-Litovsk to Bialystok and no doubt will soon commence a bombardment of Brest-Litovsk.

Advance on Brest-Litovsk.

Other armies have cleared the left bank of the Bug before Brest-Liovsk while Field Marshal Von Mackensen, having crossed the Bug, is advancing on the fortress from the south. This means that the marshes have been circumvented and that Brest-Litovsk, Russia's chief military depot and concentration center, is virtually enveloped. Although military observers think the Grand Duke probably again will be able to withdraw his army in safety, the loss of these lines is considered a graver military misfortune than the loss of Warsaw.

Germans Superior in Artillery.

The German success has been due almost entirely to their great superiority in artillery. While the Russian armies remain intact, however, these critics are optimistic as to the future.

Emperor William, who is reported to have arived at Novogeorgievsk will, it is understood, make a state entry into Warsaw and there let it be known by an announcement what the future status of Poland will be.

Along the western front there has bee nnothing that could be called a battle.

It is now evident that the fresh landing of British troops at Suvala Bay, on the Gallipoli peninsula, robbed of its element of surprise by the appearance of Turkish reinforcement, has proved somewhat of a disappointment, the only gain being that another strip of the peninsula is in the possession of the Allies and more Turkish troops must be employed against them.

While on her way to the Baltic to help the Russians the British submarine E-13 grounded on the Danish island of Saltholm, in the sound, says an admiralty statement. Berlin announces that she was "destroyed" at the southern outlet of the sound. Fifteen members of the crew of 30 are missing.

GERMANY'S FOOD SUPPLY.

Year Begins With Surplus of Grain—2,000,000 Prisoners of War.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—(By wireless to Sayville.)—The Overseas Agency gave out today for pulication the following items:

"Discussing the control and distribution of food supplies and other measures taekn to feed the German people during the coming year, a government official stated that the new harvest year began with a surplus of 700,000 tons of wheat and corn. The yield of rye this year is a little below the average. The wheat crop is above the average. The crop of potatoes is excellent.

"The Frankfurter Zeitung estimates that the Germans and Austrians are

GERMAN SUBMARINES SINK 14 STEAMERS IN 48 HOURS

Three Other Vessels Reported Sunk Would Bring the Total Toll of Two Days Up to 17, With a Gross Tonnage of 74,663.—Loss of Life Recorded Only In Sinking of The Arabic

Fourteen steamers, with a total gross tonnage of 47,698, have been sunk in the last 48 hours by German submarines. This toll, which established a record for so short a period, was more than twice as heavy as that levied by underwater craft in the preceding week. Three other vessels reported may add another 26,965 tons to the aggregate destroyed in the past two days. So far as known there has been no loss of life except in the sinking of the White Star liner, Arabic.

The recrudescence of submarine activity began on August 12 and in the week ending August 18, the British admiralty reports officially 13 vessels of a total tonnage of 22,970 were sunk, eleven of them by underwater craft and two by mines. This makes a total known loss of 70,668 tons of shipping in nine days.

Ten of the vessels sunk in the past two days were British, three Norwegian and one Spanish. The total tonnage known to have been lost Friday was 26,674 and Thursday it was 21,024. The largest vessel whose loss has been confirmed, was the Arabic of 15,801 tons. Reports that the Lapland of 17,640 tons and the Nicosian of 6,369 tons have been sunk have not been verified. The fate of the Dunsley, 2,856 net tons, reported torpedoed just before the Arabic was sunk, has not been definitely determined. The British Press Association has denied the reported loss of the Bovic of 6,500 tons.

Underwater craft torpedoed on Friday the British steamers Restormel, Baron Erskine, City of New York, Samara, Gladiator, Hittern and the Ben Brachie, with a total of 22,729 tons. The Norwegian steamers Sverresberg and Bras and the Spanish steamer Peria Castillo also were sunk, making a grand total of 26,674 tons.

The vessels sunk Tuesday were the Arabic, 15,801 tons; the Grodno, 1,955 tons; the Serbino, 2,205 tons, and the Magda, 1,063 tons, a total of 21,024. All these were of British registry except the Magda, Norwegian.

Another incident of the day upon which was written a tragic chapter of a sea history was the loss of a British submarine in The Sound with 15 members of her crew. London claims the boat ran aground while Berlin asserts it was "destroyed."

Except for another serious reverse for Russian arms, there were no striking developments in the day's military operations. Berlin reported the fall of the fortress of Novo Georgievsk where the Muscovites made their last stand in Poland, with the loss of 85,000 prisoners, including six generals. The bag of artillery at this point brought by to 1,700 the total of guns captured by the Teutonic allies in recent operations.

The forces of Grand Duke Nicholas Berlin claims, have been pushed back to Koterkakuiva, southwest of Brest-Litovsk, while they are being pursued east of Kovno and have lost ground south of the Bug on the Brest-Litovsk line.

VOTERS REMAINED AWAY

Election to Change Norfolk's Form of Government is Defeated.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 20.—Norfolk voters today decided the present form of city government was satisfactory by remaining away from the polls. Under an election held today, 50 per cent. of the qualified voters would have to cast their ballot in order to change the city charter to obtain a commission form of government or a city manager. Out of a total of 5,000 qualified voters, only 2,063 went to the polls.

EARL COOPER MAKES A NEW RECORD FOR CHICAGO COURSE.

DePalma Drops Out With Damaged Car—Race Again Today.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 20.—The Chicago Automobile Club trophy, for which nine drivers entered over the Elgin course was won today by Earl Cooper. The time for the 301 miles establishes a new record for the course. The finish follows:

Cooper, 4.01:32 time; 74.97 time per hour. Anderson, 4:05:04; 73.85. Oldfield, 4:09:55; 72.46. Alley, 4:14:29; 71.26. O'Donnell, 4:15:40; 70.83; Brown, out at 217 miles. Henderson, ungged at 184 miles. DePalma, withdrew at 176 miles. Juster, stripped gear at 92 miles.

DePalma was the favorite at the start and held the lead for the first 50 miles when he broke a rocker arm. He laid up at the pit for more than an hour, while the part was being replaced and tarted again, although hopelessly beaten. Finally seeing that the pursuit was hopeless he dropped out to save his motor for the race tomorrow.

Cooper and Anderson were never more than a few seconds apart, but Cooper finally drew into a safe lead when Anderson's car lost a trifle of its speed. Barney Oldfield drove a consistent race. In mid-race he drew into third position and stayed there.

Tomorrow 14 cars are expected to start in the Elgin National trophy race. The distance is the same as today. It is said today's record will be lowered slightly. The previous record 72.5 miles an hour, was made last year by DePalma.

WILLIAMS AND M'LOUCHLIN WIN SEMI-FINALS MATCHES.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—R. Norris Williams II, of Philadelphia, the national champion, and Maurice E. M. McLoughlin, of San Francisco, the former holder, won their matches in the semi-finals of the singles tennis tournament at the Casino today. Williams disposed of C. J. Griffin, of San Francisco, in straight sets and McLoughlin defeated N. W. Niles, of Boston, three sets to one.

The winners will meet tomorrow in the final round of the Casino cup competition.

Williams won easily from Griffin in straight sets.

The Pacific coast doubles champions and the eastern title holders won their places in the final of the doubles.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Boston defeated Chicago 4 to 1 here today, driving Benz off the mound in the first inning. Gardner then doubled off Russell and two more visitors scored, which handicap the locals were unable to overcome. Hoblitzel's triple in the seventh inning, followed by a wild pitch, gave Boston its other run.

Chicago	000 000 001	1	9 0

Shore and Cady; Benz, Russell and Schalk.

Detroit, Aug. 20.—Detroit continued its unbroken string of victories today, making it nine straight with an 11 to 1 defeat of Philadelphia. Bressler went to pieces in the third inning, giving five bases on balls and allowing two hits. Three of the passes and one of the hits came with the bases filled, netting the Tigers five runs.

Bill James, recently purchased from St. Louis, pitched a fine game for the Tigers. Cobb and Crawford attempted a double steal in the seventh. McAvoy's throw retired Crawford at second and Kopf's lightning relay to the plate caught Cobb, who attempted to score from second.

HAMLET CLAIMS AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP OF STATE

Takes Two of Three From Dallas, Western Champions.

Hamelt, N .C., Aug. 20.—Hamlet made it two out of three from Dallas in a snappy game today by beating Dallas to the tune of 5 to 0. Covington for Hamlet pitched airtight ball and held the visitors at his mercy throughout the game, allowing only four scattered hits and striking out eleven.

McNeil started off for the visitors but was wild and relieved by Greenwood in the fourth. Mason in the absence of Carroll played a good game at First and secured a single and double out of four times up.

As Dallas claims the western amateur champfonship by winning two out of three, Hamlet now claims the State amateur championship and if disputed is ready to accept the challenge from any team that proves they are entitled to a claim for it.

ROCKY MOUNT AND PORTSMOUTH AGAIN TIE IN TEN INNINGS

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 20.—Just ten more innings were added to the series with the Portsmouth Truckers this afternoon and yet neither team has lost one or won one during the great clashes of the two days. Today's game was a four to four set-to after the sixth frame. With players hitting the ball hard, players covering all corners of the lot and pitchers veritable miisers, when a hit would have counted at all, O'Brien, staged against Allen, got off for a bad start and one run was made in the first on hitting while in the second another on combination of hits and errors while another in the fourth on a hit, a sacrifice and another whelp. The Tar Heels fell to Alten in the third for two hits and one run while in the fourth a batting rally was nipped in the bud when the newcomer southpaw gave way to Wood, a right hander, but not in time to prevent three tallies and a lead for the locals. The visitors tied this up in the sixth on two safe whelps and the scoring ended.

FOUR HUNDRED FANS COMING FROM PORTSMOUTH, VA., TODAY

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 20.—With the coming of four hundred fans from Portsmouth tomorrow at the noon hour, their purpose here being to attend the double header ball game between Rocky Mount and Portsmouth at league park Saturday afternoon, the indications are that there will be the liveliest interest that has marked a single clash of the season. Since the Portsmouth baseball club has virtually passed into the hands of the Seaboard Air Line officials, and interest in the team's success is rampant in railroad circles, they are making their trip here Saturday with the slogan in the forefront "Let's Tiger the Atlantic Coast Line." The local contingents, and the half holiday fellows, several hundred in number, are not going to let this come to pass if support goes for anything and, while it's all going to be carried on in a friendly way and there are to be special reservations of sides in the grandstand, there will be plenty of support and cheering for both.

MOLESKIN BRIGADES ABOUT TO MOBILIZE

Football Leaders Preparing for Great Gridiron Campaign.

Not Since the Birth of American Intercollegiate Football Has There Been a Fall so Propitious for the Sport.

New York, Aug. 21.—With the issuing of mobilization orders for the moleskin brigades of more than a thousand colleges and schools throughout the country, football leaders are preparing for the greatest gridiron campaign in the history of the sport. Within the next few weeks the initial games of the season will be played and each succeeding Saturday witness a steadily increasing schedule of contests until the crest of the sport is reached late in November and the play declines to the final matches of early December.

Not since the days of the seventies, when American intercollegiate football was born, has there been an autumn which held forth as much in the way of gridiron activity as that of 1915. According to the official schedule prepared by the rules committee close to 3,000 games will be played by leading college and school teams of the United States between September 18 and December 4.

During this period of trifle less than 80 days there will be more than one thousand games between the elevens of the principal universities and colleges and twice that many contests among the leading high school and preparatory academies. Games are scheduled for every day in the week except Sunday and if evenly divided between Monday and Saturday would average close to 40 per day.

The honor of opening the season falls to four Pennsylvania institutions for the Carlisle Indians play Albrecht and Bucknell meets Bloomsburg Normal school in the initial games of the autumn on Saturday, September 18. One week later the activity will spread to scores of lime-marked fields, for more than one hundred teams play the opening games of their schedules including Harvard, Princeton, Yale, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia, Vanderbilt, Oberlin, Colorado, Oregon and many other eastern, western and southern elevens.

Cornell will not begin play until the final days of the month but Saturday, October 2 will see the leading university and college teams of all sections lining up for contests, some of which can hardly be classed as preliminary games. Princeton will meet Rutgers whose team has been looking forward to this match for almost a year. The day will also mark the debut of the United States Military and Naval Academy elevens against Holy Cross and Georgetown respectively. Still other teams to take the field for the initial games include Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Texas, Nebraska, Mississippi and Missouri.

Michigan, like Cornell, has selected a midweek day for her opening game but will join the Saturday brigade on October 9 when a number of promising contests are scheduled. While the baseball fans are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the world's series, football followers will watch with interest the result of such games as Cornell vs. Williams; Harvard vs. Carlisle; Princeton vs. Syracuse; Navy vs. Pittsburgh; Penn. State vs. Pennsylvania; Minnesota vs. Iowa; Notre Dame vs. Haskell and Yale vs. Lehigh.

A week later the leading games of Saturday will bring together Colgate and West Point; Pennsylvania and Navy; Chicago and Indiana; Pittsburgh and Carlisle; Georgetown and North Carolina; Howard and Virginia; Princeton and Lafayette; Minnesota and South Dakota; Alabama and Mississippi and Wisconsin and purdue. The leading games of October 23 include: Harvard vs. Cornell; Princeton vs. Dartmouth; Army vs. Georgetown; Navy vs. Virginia Poly; Chicago vs. Purdue; Michigan vs. Michigan Aggies; Pennsylvania vs. Pittsburgh; Texas vs. Oklahoma; Yale vs. Washington and Jefferson; Wisconsin vs. Ohio State; Georgia vs. Virginia, and Minnesota vs. Iowa.

The final Saturday of October is marked by several intersectional games, Michigan meets Syracuse; Cornell faces Virginia Poly, and the Michigan Aggies play the eleven of the Oregon Aricultural College. Other contests in the various sections of the country bring together Harvard and Penn. State; Chicago and Wisconsin; Vanderbilt and Tennessee; Yale and Colgate; Illinois and Minnesota; Princeton and Williams and Dartmouth vs. Amherst.

The opening of November finds the leading elevens gyrating together with the result that on Saturday November 6 Pennsylvania and Dartmouth play at Boston; Princeton and Harvard clash at Princeton; Notre Dame travels to West Point to meet the army; Cornell goes west to play Michigan; Chicago meets the Haskell Indians; Virginia and Vanderbilt line-up, Yale has Brown as an opponent Oregon will face Washington and Tennessee will play South Carolina.

Yale and Princeton will be the headliners in the east on November 13 while Minnesota and Chicago will play the leading roles in the Middle West. Other important contests on the same day include: Washington and Lee and Cornell; Brown at Harvard; Michigan at Pennsylvania; Colgate at Syracuse; Penn. State at Lafayette; South Dakota at North Dakota; Amherst at Williams and Illinois at Wisconsin.

The final games of many college elevens will be played on Saturday, November 20. The annual contest between Harvard and Yale at Cambridge stands pre-eminent on the day's card but there are other games of importance scheduled including Colgate at Georgetown; Dartmouth at Syracuse; Illinois at Chicago; Minnesota at Wisconsin; Denver at Colorado; Mississippi at Arkansas and Missouri at Kansas.

Thanksgiving day will see Pennsylvania and Cornell playing at Philadelphia; Carlisle Indians at Brown; Syracuse tackling the University of Montana at Missouri, Notre Dame playing Texas at Austin; Mississippi facing Alabama at Birmingham; Penn. State at Pittsburgh; Kentucky State at Tennessee; Louisiana at Tulane; North Carolina at Virginia; Southern California playing the Oregon Aggies at San Francisco and Vanderbilt meeting the University of the South at Nashville.

The season will close in the east on Saturday, November 27, with the annual Army-Navy game, played in New York this year, but will continue for another week in the South and West. Notre Dame will close an autumn of much travel by playing Rice Institute at Houston, Texas; the University of New Mexico will play the United States Indian School at Albuquerque on November 30 and the following day Syracuse will also wind up a season of many trips with a game against the Oregon Aggies at Portland, Ore. On Saturday December 4 the University of Southern California will meet Whittier at Los Angeles and with this contest ended, football taps will be sounded for another year.

THE ARABIC INCIDENT GIVES RISE TO FEAR

Many Rumors Regarding the Foreign Credit Loan.

Financiers, However, Claim Nothing Has Interfered with Negotiations for Floating the British Loan.

New York, Aug. 20.—Misgivings as to developments in this country's relations with Germany as the result of the destruction of the Arabic featured the serious foeign exchange situation today. The possibility that American bankers might be called upon to finance a large domestic loan gave rise to many rumors concerning the negotiations now pending over the flotation of a $150,000,000 foreign credit loan or some other form of British credit here.

"We can well conceive of such a situation," was the comment of one international banker whose views were sought upon this point. However, that has not yet entered into the situation. Negotiations are proceeding without reference to the Arabic."

A report that negotiation for the floatation of a British credit loan of $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 to pay for American supplies purchased by foreign buyers had been virtually suspended, was denied. In several quarters the same word was obtained: that nothing had interfered with the negotiations. Bankers, however, were loath to discuss in detail the talk of the street that circumstances might soon divert the attention of financiers from foreign loans o a United States bond issue.

No more eminent financial authorities, it was said, could have been found in London than Sir Edward Holden and Sir Felix Schuster, who, it was reported, probably would be two of the three men.

ABOUT HANGING WOMEN.

Pitt County Has Hanged Them and Otherwise Disposed of Them.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greenville, N. C., Aug. 20.—The sentence of Mrs. Warren to the electric chair seems to have started the question of hanging women, and has North Carolina ever hanged them? Several instances seem to have been cited where they have paid the death penalty. Mr. S. V. Laughinghouse was right about a woman having been hanged in Pitt, if he could not give all the particulars.

Mr. L. W. Lawrence, one of our octogenarians, gave your correspondent the facts in the matter. He was an eye witness to the hanging. He says that it was Mary Hanrahan, who killed the overseer on the farm. He gives the following story:

Mr. Watt Hanrahan was a very large planter and landowner and owned a very great number of slaves. To keep them at some work, he had a large piece of land near the present county home, known as "Hanrahan's Quarters," for the keeping of surplus slaves, or those for whom he had little to do. At that place they were employed clearing land, cultivating it and making support if not money. The overseer was named Griffin. He had occasion to whip one of Mary's children, a boy. This so enraged Mary that while the whipping was being administered, she picked up a large lightwood knot and gave the overseer such a blow from behind on his head that he died. Mary was tried for the murder, convicted and with two negro men, was hanged here in Greenville. The site of the hanging was about where Fifth street crosses the ravine going to the training school. That was known as the hanging ground and has been the scene of several such events, the bodies generally being buried near there.

The two negro men hanged with Mary had murdered a man named Haddock, the details of which crime have not been learned. The burning of the court records in 1858 makes matters of this kind now tradition.

About three miles east of this city, at the site of the old court house, on the south side of the road, only a few years ago was the body and remains of some of the larger limbs of a tree, which was said to have been used for hanging criminals before the Revolutionary war. And it is said a negro woman was hanged from that limb for killing her master.

About the close of the Revolutionary war, a negro woman, named Rose, was publicly burned at the court house for the murder of her mistress, John and Sibbey Tyson, his wife or sister, lived on the north side of Contentnea creek, about north of the present town of Farmville. They had two slaves, Shade and Rose. Sibbey was very cruel to them. With the help of Shade, Rose murdered her. Rose was tried, convicted and burned at the court house for the crime. Shade being only an accomplice, was sold and sent away south where very hard work was then imposed upon such class of slaves.

GENERAL METTS FOR COMMANDER.

To the Editor of The Star:

It was with great pleasure we read the letter of General Carleton endorsing Gen. J. I. Metts to succeed Gen. Julian S. Carr to the command of the North Carolina Division of the United Confederate Veterans. While we all regret to see General Carr leave the position he has so long and honorably held, yet the promotion is one well bestowed on a brave and honorable soldier.

We have many gentlemen in North Carolina who could fill this position with honor and credit, yet there is no one who could do so better than Gen. J. I. Metts. He is fully equipped in every particular, a brave soldier, a good organizer, a splendid disciplinarian, in fine physical condition. His whole heart and soul has been in the work of the U. C. V. since its organization.

Pender county veterans heartily second his nomination and hope he will be elected by acclamation.

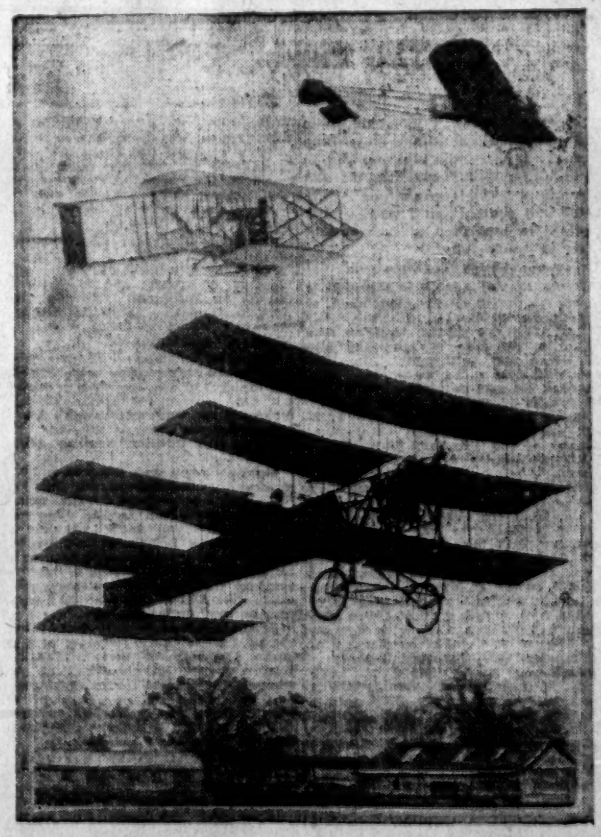
Germans Build Great Triplane



The Germans have recently built this remarkable tripiane, which they declare is capable of carrying twenty men just as easily as the British biplane or the French monoplane will carry two. This enormous machine has not, so far as is known, been used in the war; but it is understood that men are now being trained to use it.

The Germans hope with such an aeroplane to put a force in the air which will rout the smaller scouting machines of the Allies. Twenty armed men would have the advantage over a single aviator and the operator of the machine gun with him.

Annual Report of All Markets in North Carolina

Wilson led and Winston-Salem Took Second Place for Year Just Ended —Daughtridge With Club Boys.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 20.—The annual report of sales on the loose leaf tobacco markets in this State for the year ending August 1, of which there are 52, shows 202,787,202 pounds first hand for growers and 230,334,444 pounds including resales for dealers and warehouses. The total sales for the year ending August, 1914, were 189,643,315 pounds. Wilson led the past year with 23,508,093 pounds first hand and 30,931,011 including resales. Winston-Salem was second with 22,748614 pounds first hand and 27,491,631 including resales. The sales on some of the Eastern markets, first hand, follow:

Wilson, 23,508,093; Greenville, 19,639,020; Kinston, 16,203,857; Rocky Mount 12,865,270; Warsaw, 2,436,343; Fairmont, 2,421,857; Fair Bluff, 1,500,319; Newbern, 1,367,078; Wallace, 902,051; Clinton, 571,715; Richlands, 437,721; Tabor, 267,382; Fayetteville, 236,389; Mount Olive, 265,586; Whiteville, 90,231.

Daughtridge Praises Club Boys.

Lieutenant Governor E. L. Daughtridge, here from Rocky Mount, spent several hours with the 235 boys here from every part of the State as members of the corn, pig and poultry clubs, and talks enthusiastically of this work and its effect on the agricultural interests of the State. He says this movement surely means that very soon the State will be rid of the forty to fifty million dollars' drain for food supplies that ought by all means to be produced in the State to bring about self-support among the farmers.

He says that it is all too true that it has all these years required about all the revenue that comes from the cotton crop in this State to buy the food supplies that the State fails to produce for its yearly consumption. The boys, he says, are a splendid and most promising crowd and have the enthusiasm and grasp of purpose that assure high attainment.

Mr. Daughtridge added that the work of the tomato or canning clubs among the girls on the farms is nearly or quite as far reaching and important as that of the boys' clubs. These canning clubs, he says, assure the saving of vast quantities of fruits and vegetables for winter home use and be marketed at large profit that heretofore has constituted a great waste and direct loss to the farmers.

Asked about his campaign for governor, Mr. Daughtridge declared that developments to his advantage have more than fulfilled his expectations thus far and that as matters now stand he will certainly be in the contest to the finish and with a fine prospect for winning the nomination. He says that in spite of the claims of his opponent (Attorney General Bickett), to have a following assured that gives him the nomination, he believes that there has really been no crystalization of opinion or definite lining up of forces on which estimates that really mean anything can be based and he believes that the sober and final thought of the folks out in the State will be favorable to his claims for the governorship.

New Corporations.

Two new corporations were chartered as follows:

Union Manufacturing Co., of Canton, Haywood county, capital $50,000 authorized and $25,000 subscribed by M. L. Delly, J. A. Platt and J. Bat Smathers for the manufacture of the Christopher sanitary dinner pails.

The Union Manufacturing and Trading Co., of Sanford, capital $30,000 for the manufacture of harness and all manner of articles out of leather. The incorporators are J. B. Womble, J. R. Campbell and J. M. Burns.

WAGONER RESIGNS AS HEAD OF ODD FELLOWS ORPHANAGE

Mr. Charles O. Baird Will Be in Charge Temporarily at Least.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 20.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Odd Fellows' Ohphans Home, held in this city last night, Prof. E. Leff Wagoner tendered his resignation as superintendent of the institution ,stating that he desired to take up other lines of work. The resignation was accepted. Mr. Charles O. Baird, who has for some time had charge of the traveling singing class, will serve as acting superintendent for the present. He will be succeeded in charge of the singing class by Mr. John D. Berry, of Raleigh, who takes charge today at Monroe, the class now being on a tour of the State.

For some time there have been criticisms of Superintendent Wagoner's conduct in the management of the orphanage, but the members of the board declined to make any statement whatever as to the nature of any charges that may have been made against Professor Wagoner.

TO SAVE THE BABIES

Catawba Medical Society Endorses Proposed Child Welfare Plan.

Newton, N. C., Aug. 20.—The Catawba County Medical Society went on record yesterday as favoring tentative plans suggested some time ago by the State Board of Health to endeavor to inaugurate some special, intensive work on child hygiene in the county, dealing especially with care and feeding of infants and summer diarrhoeal diseases. If the plan is finally adopted, it will probably mean the employment of a specialist on children's diseases for several months or even a year. It is hoped that such a specialist may be secured from the U. S. Public Health Service or the Children's Bureau. This specialist would devote the major part of his efforts in assisting the practising physicians of the county in applying the best modern methods in the treatment and prevention of children's diseases. He will also hold reading, study and lecture courses for the mother's clubs, and carry on such other work as may appear necessary looking toward lowering our present high infant death rate. So far as is known, if this plan is adopted it will be the first work of this nature ever adopted in this country.

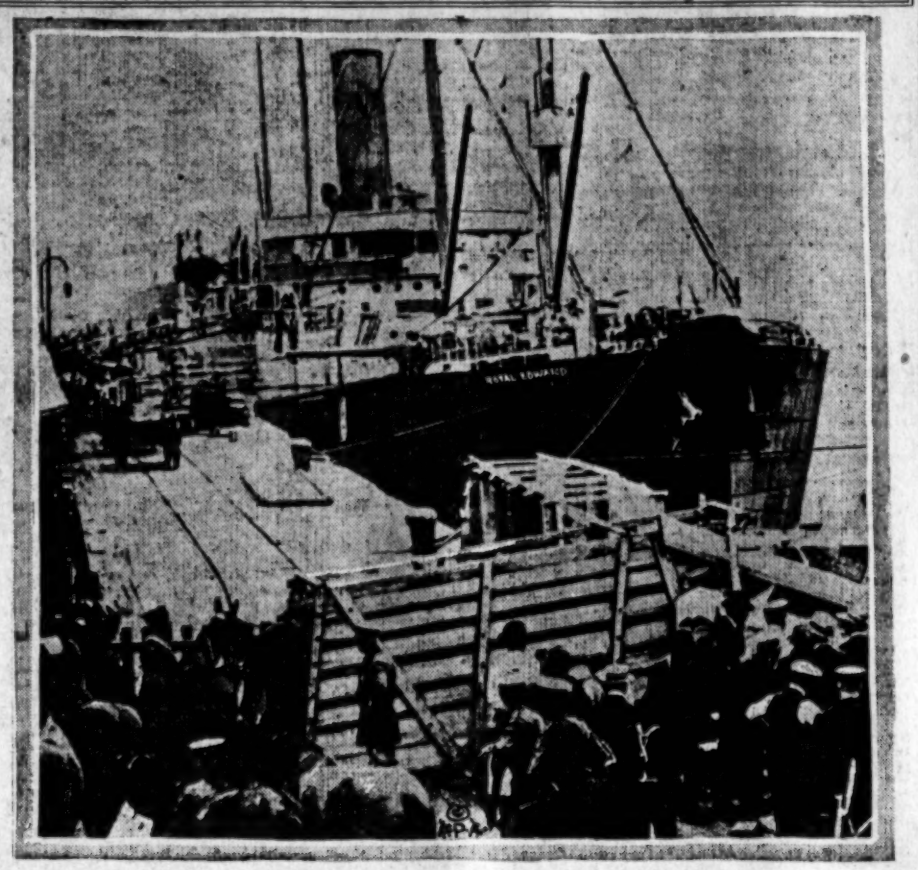
Canadian Steamship Sunk With 1,000 Soldiers in Dardanelles.



The Royal Edward When She Loaded in Montreal at Beginning of War.

The Royal Edward, chartered by the British Government from the Canadian Northern Steamship Company to transport troops from England, was blown up Saturday, August 14, by a German submarine in the Dardanelles. She carried 1,350 soldiers, 32 military officers, and a crew of 220. Of these some 600 were saved. She was an 11,117-ton steel triple-screw steamer, owned by the Canadian Northern Steamship Company, and is understood to have been commandeered by the government for use as a transport at the beginning of the war.

The Royal Edward was built in 1908 at Glasgow. She was 526 feet long and had a sixty foot beam. She was modernly built throughout and equipped with wireless.

A former attack by a Turkish submarine on a British transport, the Manitou, on April 18, was not so successful. The explosion, however, caused a panic aboard and many of the soldiers leaped into the sea, about 100 being drowned. The transport was reported by the British admiralty to have succeeded in landing the remainder of her company.

EDUCATIONAL DRY AT TABOR

Large Crowds Hear Messrs. J. A. Brown and Irvin Tucker—Graded School Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tabor, N. C., Aug. 17.—Educational Day at Tabor last Sunday was in every measure a big success. The large auditorium at the new school building was filled to overflowing at every service and one of the splendid features of the day was the fact that the people gave each speaker their undivided attention. A large choir, rendering many beautiful selections, in addition to the excellent choruses, shaped the program into a special unique one. Their efforts were not in vain, because the people certainly enjoyed the songs.

Early the people began to assemble and long before the time for opening of the first service had arrived a large audience was waiting. After prayer by Mr. T. H. Harrison, Mr. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, was introduced as speaker of the opening exercises. Mr. Brown is well known all over this county and from the very start caught the interest of the people. He traced out in a beautiful manner the necessity, cause and effect of Christion training of those dear little ones intrusted to our care, not only while they are young but also every moment during their growing period.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Irvin Tucker, of Whiteville, spoke to a packed house along the line of Christian education. Mr. Tucker is a forceful speaker and presented a powerful appeal to the parents and older people, bringing before all the absolute necessity of a moral atmosphere in every community, also the necessity of Christian training from the home on through the Sunday schools. He said, "Don't go to Sunday school, but take to Sunday school." It is hoped that many other communities will have these two men make these addresses.

Mr. Wooten, our dear county superintendent, who is loved far and near by every one, not entirely because he has done so much for the children of the county along educational lines, but rather because of the beautiful Christian life he lives, preached a magnificent sermon to a large and appreciative congregation. Earnestly he spoke of the fact that, "God is mindful of man," and reverently did he plead for an awakening, a continuance of that great movement, namely, Christian education. This appeal was one of the best and most earnest ever delivered here, and is bound to continue to ring in the ears of the people in the future. May these men continue to speak as they spoke here.

Tabor graded school will open Monday, August 23rd, under a very strong and efficient faculty. Prof. W. J. Justus, of many years experience in teaching, and a graduate of Trinity College, Durham, has the management of the school and is ably assisted by his brother, Prof. F. B. Justus, of Clemson College, Clemson, S. C., and a graduate of Cecil's Business College, Spartanburg, S. C. In addition the trustees are very glad to announce the following teachers: Miss Marie Cunningham, Miss Janie McNeil, Miss Lina Melvin, Miss Lorena Newton and Mrs. Anna Justus.

The new dormitory on the school campus is now completed and ready for use. The entire faculty is expected to board in the dormitory and all boys and girls in attendance at school. Any boys and girls desiring to attend a school thoroughly prepared to teach the high school subjects at extremely low rates may write the principal for information, regarding board, room, etc.

Business courses under the direction of Prof. F. B. Justus will be available at very low prices.

The music department is second to none in the county, being directed by a graduate and thoroughly competent teacher of much experience. The work of Miss Newton last year is positive proof of her ability to do things. It is a very important thing to have your child started right.

Miss Bessie Floyd, sister to the late Dr. Floyd, will have charge of the kindergarten. She is a woman of sweet disposition and loves the children.

School athletics will soon be the topic and it seems that the prospects for a fine football team as well as baseball and basketball were never brighter. Already the fans here are talking about the future contests. Prof. F. B. Justus expects to begin practice in baseball with the boys while the football boys will a little later begin work under Prof. W. J. Justus. It is hoped that other schools of the county will not delay in getting together the boys in some definite game if not upon all. Why not Chadbourn, Whiteville, Dothan and Tabor and others, if possible, get together?

Recently Oscar Harrelson, H. C. Garrell, R. M. Garrell made a business trip to Baltimore. All three say that the trip was in every way a very enjoyable one.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Fussell motored over to Whiteville Tuesday to pay visit to many friends of that place.

The electric light system has been installed and Tabor is beautifully lighted now at night. The citizens are fast having their homes wired.

Mrs. W. T. West and son, of Norfolk, Va., are visiting friends and relatives in town.

Mr. E. W. Fonvielle, a very popular insurance and real estate man of Tabor, returned home recently after a short stay in Wilmington

Mr. Robert Cox and father, J. N. Cox, of Dothan, were seen in town recently.

JOHNSON AND WALKER RELEASED

Evidence Not Sufficient to Hold Them For Murder of Abt.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 20.—The city authorities today released both Arthur Johnson and A. C. Walker, suspects in the mysterious murder and robbery of Charles Abt, the eccentric Raleigh miser. Solicitor Herbert Norris found no evidence to warrant holding them. Detectives are working another clue that may result in the arrest of a negro suspect. They insist that the Abt mystery is murder and not suicide.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES YOUR LIVER! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and You Don't Lose a Day's Work

Liven up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working; headache and dizziness gone; stomach will be sweet and bowels regular.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of Calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength.

If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.

TOP O' THE MORNING

Every brave heart must treat society as a child, and never allow it to dictate. —Emerson.

When cotton becomes contraband the band on it may play the mischief.

A summer girl may get her a beau and be tied up in a beau knot by fall.

A prophetic preacher declares that we are now in the Saturday night of time.

The Balkan states hardly know whether to sell or not, as the bids are merely promissory.

"Do it now"—if you haven't something more important to do that can't as well be postponed.

The South's convictions don't amount to much if they are tagged to cotton and go up or down with it.

Did you ever eat a Sampson Blue shortcake crusted with icing sugar and frescoed with whipped cream?

Some Americans can do mighty small things—for instance, counterfeiting Mexican money that isn't worth one cent on the dollar.

If what Comptroller of the Currency John Skelton Williams says is true (and who has a right to dispute it), why should we worry?

One thing that a woman hates to see coming is a fat man who has to wear suspenders because his rotundity prevents him from wearing a belt.

Nations form alliances, offensive and defensive, but such entangling arrangements seem to get the whole world into trouble when a war starts.

A colored farmer in Florida planted cotton March 27, had a bale ginned by July 31 and pocketed $46.80 for it. The fruits of industry know no color.

A masculine writer inquires: "Why do American women wear short skirts?" There are two reasons so apparent that it is not worth while to name them.

The Russians have strategically retired over a distance of 300 miles in a very short time. Probably they have covered that distance by depending on their flying artillery.

A wag says he performed a masterful piece of strategy. He says he sullenly but rapidly retreated by a near cut when he saw a bill collector making a bold advance.

If you want to see a fine country, travel in one covered with good roads. Highways make a country fine because they promote its development by attracting homeseekers and investors.

Little importance can be attached to an allegation when the allegator crawls in his hole and refuses to come out with the proof. Secretary Daniels wants that Providence editor to put up or shut up.

The announcement of the fact that the Georgia state farm prison quarters had no protection from an attack from without doesn't render the appearance of the situation any better for the authorities, especially in view of the fact that Governor Harris a month ago had received a secret message to the effect that an attack upon the prison was planned and that he was censured for taking action to prevent a lynching then, which merely resulted in the postponement of the outrage for a month.

A certain Southern state which is rapidly attracting settlers is doing so by building good roads so as to make the country accessible. A county with undeveloped resources can attribute their undeveloped state to inaccessibility. Resources become available as soon as they are accessible. If North Carolina wants to magnify her resources and display her advantages, she can take a near cut to it by a network of modern highways. A county might get along fairly well without railroads, but it can't get along without good public roads.

SINKING OF THE ARABIC.

The sinking of the big White Star liner Arabic by a German submarine on Thursday morning, near the coast of Ireland, has deplorable possibilities in it. The steamship had 413 persons aboard, some of whom were Americans, and the probability is that at least a score of lives have been lost by this latest tragedy. Tragedy it is, for it must be remembered that those on board were non-combatants and it is said the ship was sunk by a torpedo without warning.

It is difficult to express a view without all the facts in the case, and yet there is enough in it to arouse apprehension that the friction between this country and Germany will be aggravated by this incident. Secretary Lansing declined to comment about it till he could know the particulars and he was wise in withholding judgment till he had the grounds to base it upon.

The government, of course, had to be prudent and deliberate in its attitude, but we might anticipate the matter to the extent of saying that, while possibly only four American lives were lost, the sinking of the Arabic comes dangerously near a "deliberately unfriendly act," as defined in the last American note to Germany. It will be remembered that the American note expressed horror and resentment over the Lusitania tragedy and notified Germany that "repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights must be considered by the government of the United States, when they affect American citizens, as deliberately unfriendly."

Whether the sinking of the Arabic was "deliberately unfriendly" depends upon the circumstances and the facts. Anyhow, the act is shocking, and it certainly will add to the gravity of our strained relations with Germany, if the sentiment of America has been wholly ignored or treated with contempt.

INTERFERENCE WITH GEORGIA

We have to concede something to the provincialism of Georgia, since North Carolina and all our Southern states have plenty of it left. They become incensed even at criticism and especially brook outside interference in what they consider their own affairs. The people take their sovereignty seriously and they don't like any foreign interference in anything.

For that reason, perhaps, injury was done to the cause of Leo M. Frank while he was on trial on the charge of murdering Mary Phagan. The sending of outside detectives to Atlanta and the action of legislatures and organizations in other states to influence the case was resented in Georgia. Large sums of money were raised in distant cities for his defense, and, altogether, we have no doubt it prejudiced the unfortunate Frank's case.

Even now the organization in New York to raise funds, and to send detectives to aid Georgia in running down Frank's lynchers, may create such resentment in Georgia that more trouble will be the result. Even so, the resentment of the proud Georgia people may be such that outside aid will be spurned and prove fruitless. It is Georgia's problem and the Georgians consider it a reflection on their state that it should be considered elsewhere that Georgia is either powerless or unwilling to handle the matter. However, Georgia ought to remove the evidences that lead outside people to believe she is either unwilling or powerless. They are not to be blamed for such belief so long as the circumstances seem to them to point only in that direction.

All of us can take a hand in calling on Little Old New York to suppress her gunmen, river pirates and child murderers, but New York does not mind it. She goes ahead and executes four or five gunmen and also electrocutes a prominent police official in carrying out her own plans. She does not let outside criticisms and suggestions affect her, and even would welcome aid in handling her large problems.

Of course, New York thinks she is big enough to do it all herself, but she is so big that she is not sufficiently provincial as to be resentful of our share in regulating her affairs. After a while our Southern states will grow and become less provincial and perhaps we will look upon outside interference as friendly advice and timely assistance, but until then doubtless it is better to respect such sentiment as can be found in Georgia as to the gratuity of outside interference.

We had all better let Georgia handle the matter till she needs us and calls on us for assistance. We must not offend her sovereignty and dignity, a good stock of which she has. For that matter Georgia handles her problems quite as well as any of the states, although they now and then forget the beam in their own eye and manifest a disposition to dig the mote out of Georgia's eye.

We have to remember, however, that inside interference as well as outside interference with the plans and purposes of Georgia's mob element causes resentment. We have Governor Harris' word for the fact that his interference with a reported plan to lynch Frank about a month ago was resented, even though his interference had no effect other than to postpone the lynching for a month. Any interference with the lynchers of Frank is going to be resented by them and their friends—whether it comes from the outside or the inside.

A philosopher reminds us not to tell all we know before we quit talking. Voltaire said: "The secret of being tiresome is in telling everything." Listen awhile and let others do some of the talking.

THE YANKEES OF THE EAST

Americans have flattered themselves by calling the Japanese the Yankees of the East, but in some respects the Japs are setting us a new pace. Especially is that true so far as a merchant marine is concerned. We have been talking merchant marine for years, but according to the Liverpool Journal of Commerce the Japanese talked merchant marine only a short while and at once decided to have one of their own.

The Japanese were not long in making up their minds that if Japan's foreign commerce were to be extended she must have her own ocean-going passenger and freight ships. Japan set at once to building a merchant marine. Her shipyards got busy with orders for high class passenger steamships and when passenger ships were not wanted, modern cargo carriers were constructed.

When the European war broke out, Japan foresaw a shortage of world sea tonnage and anticipated the difficulty of carrying on commerce. She began at once to buy second-hand vessels. Inquiries were sent out all over the world, and the result is that Japan has such a considerable number of merchant ships as to attract the attention of other countries. Many of the second-hand vessels were purchased at such low prices that the business created by the war has enabled the owners to pay for their ships out of their earnings from carrying troops and munitions of war.

With her own ships Japan is pushing her trade all over the world. She runs several lines to the Pacific coast of the United States and soon a line is to be established to New York, with regular sailings of passenger and freight ships which will pass close into Wilmington on their trips via the Panama Canal.

The American Yankees had better stir their stumps on this matter of a merchant marine. However, America is increasing her merchant marine faster than some of us conceive. Our shipyards are all busy and they are turning out a class of excellent steamships.

CO-OPERATIVE DYE INDUSTRIES

It would seem natural for manufacturers of colored textiles to produce their own dyes, provided large chemical companies could not supply colors at a lower price than textile companies could manufacture them. Having considered the matter thoroughly, Philadelphia hosiery manufacturers have combined and organized a co-operative company for the purpose of making their own dyes.

The new concern will be called the American Co-operating Dye and Chemical Works. According to final tests of the dyes to be manufactured by an original formula, tried out last week, the dyes produced were declared successful by a number of dye experts. The plant will be located at Chester, Pa., and plans are being carried out as to the necessary details.

The process to be used in making colors is one recently perfected by Dr. I. V. Stanislaus, of South Bend, Ind., and William Aims, of Philadelphia. It is said the process will revolutionize the dye industry, but as nitrobenzol will be the chief ingredient, it is feared that difficulty may be experienced in obtaining materials for its production. Nitrobenzol at present is in large demand because of its use in the manufacture of high explosives used in war.

Dr. Stanislaus, who is a noted dyestuff expert and chemist, says the dyes to be made by his process will form the foundation for a great American industry.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The papers are still wondering if Mrs. Warren will be electrocuted. The chances are that she will. Some of the papers say that if she had friends and a pull she would escape the chair without any doubt. Perhaps if she had been worthy of friends and a pull she wouldn't have been a wanton and a murderess. That is the difference.—Fairbrothers' Everything.

The New York Times has no sympathy with any of the plans that have been proposed for assisting the South in marketing her crop. It says: "And the South is scenting the air for help. There are rumors from Washington of an international pool to facilitate the sale and export of cotton. It has been reported that the British government will be solicited to declare cotton contraband and then purchase for itself the amount that Germany might be expected to buy if her ports were open. These are fantastic ideas." May it not be that some of the South's interested friends are suggesting the plans for marketing the cotton crop rather than the South herself. The South appreciates a helping hand in time of need just as any other section does, but she isn't the author of any of the plans to which the Times calls attention.—Savannah News.

The Corn Club Boys of North Carolina have been given the warmest kind of a welcome to Raleigh for those who are in the city in attendance on the meeting at the A. & M. College are entitled to the best kind of welcome which any place can give, for they are boys who are doing things for North Carolina. The lectures which are being delivered, the studies which the boys are taking up, the personal experiences in corn crop-making which are related, all go towards putting them in better trim for the raising of future crops. These boys are taking hold of the opportunities to become the best kind of farmers. There are some 225 of the boys from the farms of the States in attendance, and it is a fine sight to see the earnestness with which they enter into the work of further equipping themselves. North Carolina can well feel that its future is going to be cared for when it can boast of such workers, young fellows who are already taking part in increasing the material wealth of the State. Raleigh is proud to have them with it for awhile.—Raleigh News and Observer.

LIFE-SIZE STATUE OF VIRGINIA DARE IS GIFT

Presented by Miss Louisa Lander to North Carolina

Gift Is Announced at Annual Celebration of Virginia Dare's Birthday at Fort Raleigh This Week—Inspiring Occasion.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Manteo, N. C., Aug. 20.—That North Carolina is to receive, as soon as arrangements can be made for its transportation, a beautifully executed life-size statue of Virginia Dare, the work of Miss Louisa Lander, of Washington, D. C., was made public for the first time at the celebration of Virginia Dare's natal day at Fort Raleigh, on Wednesday, August 18, an annual event of first importance in the life of Roanoke Island and Eastern Carolina, and one which, it is hoped at no distant date, will be attended by people from all over the State and from many parts of the Union as well.

This was the sixth annual celebration, under the auspices of the Roanoke Colony Memorial Association, of the birthday of the first child of English parents born on American soil. Already the crowd attending the celebration is many times larger than it was in the beginning and Wednesday the number attending was probably in the neighborhood of fifteen hundred. Had it not been for threatening weather in the morning, which made many believe that the navigation of small boats would be hazardous, no doubt the crowd would have broken all records.

Prof. E. W. Joyner, superintendent of education for Dare county, made the address of welcome. "It was just 331 years ago in July," he said, "since Amidas and Barlowe first cast anchor in Pamlico sound. After a stay of two months they set sail, anxious to tell Sir Walter Raleigh of what they had seen and taking with them products of the new found land and besides two Indians, Manteo and Wanchese. Manteo became a fast friend to the whites, but Wanchese was displeased with the palefaces and their ways and spent the rest of his life in stirring up his people against them. It is with the spirit of Manteo that we greet you who are visitors on our isle today, and we hope before the day is done to make each of you feel that you are welcome. We welcome you, one and all, to the best that we have of climate, of good things to eat and of our proud history."

Dr. Richard Dillard, master of ceremonies, introduced Mrs. Sallie Whitehall Cotton, of Pitt county, author of "The White Doe." "You will hear," said Mrs. Cotten, "a great deal about the past history of Roanoke Island. I want to talk to you about its future. Virginia Dare should mean something in the lives of those who grew into manhood and womanhood within sight of her birthplace. This spot should become the property of the United States government and should be made a national park. A permanent steel pier should be built by the federal government out from the shore for the landing of boats and a bronze statue of Sir Walter Raleigh should be erected on this ground. If this dream is to come true the first step must be taken by you people who live here. Make this occasion a great local success first. I believe that there could be no more proper time nor place than this to divulge a secret which I have now kept for some time. Very soon, perhaps by this fall, will be set up in the hall of history in the new State building at Raleigh a statue of Virginia Dare, done life size and of beautiful Italian marble by an artist of Washington, D. C." Mrs. Cotten then went on to name the donor of the gift and to explain that Miss Lander had some time ago bequeathed it to the State in her will, but that the assurance that the completion of the new building at Raleigh would afford it safe keeping had lead her to make the donation now.

Hon. Francis D. Winston then delivered the annual historical address. Judge Winston's address was a study of the history of the lost colony and a review of the evidence which seems to indicate that the "Croatan" Indians of Robeson county are the descendants of the lost colony.

Bronze Tablet Presented.

Dr. H. E. Rondthaler, of Winston-Salem, presenting to the Association a bronze tablet with the word "Croatan" engraved thereon, briefly described Governor White's return to the island on August 17th, the first birthday of Virginia Dare, of his finding the letters CRO- carved on a tree on the beach, of the finding of the complete word carved on a tree to the right of the fort entrance, of the subsequent and fruitless search for the missing colonists. He then explained that he wished the tablet fastened to a tree to the right of the fort's entrance and at the same height from the ground that the inscription of the lost colonists had been carved.

The tablet was accepted in behalf of the association by Miss Rennie Griffin, of Manteo. Miss Griffin's simple and sincere language won the hearts of the whole audience and her closing words, "We thank you, Dr. Rondthaler, for this gift and we love you for it," caused a wave of feeling over the whole audience.

The tablet was then affixed to a holly tree immediately within the entrance of the fort and slightly to its right. Every comer to the fort may now see the word "Croatan" on a tree certainly not more than a few feet from where stood the trunk on which the word was carved nearly three centuries and a half ago.

PARDON FOR W. H. BRITT ASKED

Programme for Annual Wilson County Baraca—Philathea Convention.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 20.—The programme has been issued for the annual convention of the Wilson Baraca-Philathea Union to be held next Sunday at Evansdale. Those who will make addresses are Profs. J. E. Allen, of Warrenton, and A. R. Williams, of Greensboro, president and secretary, respectively, of the State Union, Rev. D. A. Futrell and Rev. Richard Bagby.

Attorney John E. Woodard has made application for the pardon of W. H. Britt, who was sentenced in February to the State prison for a term of five years by Judge George Connor for the crime of forgery. Britt forged the names of several men to notes, which were cashed by Mr. James Newsome, of Lucama. Judge Connor and Mr. Newsome both join in asking the Governor to pardon Britt. The case is one of the saddest ones in the history of Wilson courts. He has a wife and several children living in Greensboro. The woman is doing what she can by running a boarding house to support her children.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 20.—Joe Jackson, slugging outfielder for the American baseball club, was sold today to the Chicago White Sox, C. W. Somers, owner of the club, announced. The deal includes a cash consideration and some White Sox players.

GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS SHOOTING WILD FOWL

Department of Agriculture Will Be Glad to Consider Recommendations.

With the approach of the open season for shooting wild fowl, the United States Department of Agriculture is warning sportsmen that the Federal regulations as amended October 1, 1914, will be strictly enforced. Some misunderstanding has arisen from the fact that the various State laws do not always conform to the Federal regulations. This is regarded as unfortunate, but in such cases the department will insist upon the observance of the Federal regulations.

The department will consider any recommendations submitted in good faith for amendment of the regulations, but will hold no public hearings thereon, nor will it amend the regulations prior to October 15, 1915. It is the purpose of the department to conform the regulations to the wishes of the majority of sportsmen, so far as it can be done, and at the same time give wild fowls the necessary protection.

Federal regulations divide the United States into two zones. Zone No. 1, the breeding zone, includes the States of Oregon, Idaho, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey and all states north of them. Zone No. 2, the wintering zone, includes all states south of those named.

The regulations prescribe seasons as follows:

Waterfowl, October 1 to January 16. Exceptions: Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, November 1 to February 1. Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, November 20 to February 16.

Rail, Coots, Gallinules, September 1 to December 1. Exceptions: Tennessee, October 1 to December 1. Louisiana November 1 to February 1.

Woodcock, November 1 to January 1. Exceptions: Delaware, Louisiana November 15 to January 1. West Virginia October 1 to December 1. Georgia December 1 to January 1.

Shore birds—Black-breasted and Golden Plover, Jacksnipe, Yellowlegs, September 1 to December 16. Exceptions: Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, November 20 to February 1. Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, November 1 to February 1. Tennessee October 1 to December 19.

Insectivorous birds protected indefinitely. Band-tailed pigeons, cranes, swans, curlew and smaller shore birds protected until September 1, 1918; wood ducks in West Virginia.

Shooting prohibited between sunset and sunrise.

ENTERS INTO REST.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Mohr Answered Last Summons Yesterday Morning.

After an illness of some weeks during which she bore her suffering with great Christian fortitude, Mrs. Wilhelmina Mohr, beloved wife of Mr. Peter Mohr, No. 1201 Market street, entered into rest yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the family home in this city.

Mrs. Mohr was born in Wremen, Germany and had she lived until September 25th of this year, she would have been 58 years of age. She came to this country with her parents when a young girl and had resided here ever since. She was a devoted Christian woman, a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church and took an active part in all of the church work, being a member of the Dorcas Society and the Mengert Mission Circle. No call ever came to her unheeded and she was ever ready to do what she could for the advancement of Christ's kingdom on earth. Not only will her kindly presence be missed in the circle of her devoted family but the church, in her death, loses one of its most valuable members.

Surviving Mrs. Mohr are her husband, one son, Mr. Henry Mohr, and two daughters, Mrs. F. A. Bissinger, of this city, and Mrs. John Bulwinkle, of Charleston, the last named having been with her mother when the end came. She leaves also one brother, Mr. J. D. Doscher, Sr., and two sisters, Miss Gesine Doscher and Mrs. Henry Offerman, of Kankakee, Ill. All have the tenderest sympathy of a host of friends in their sorrow.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed but the services will be held some time Sunday, the hour to be announced later.

OFFICE OF CONSTRUCTING QUARTERMASTER, Fort Caswell, N. C.—Sealed bids are wanted until August 23, 1915, for sale of material for pure water distilling plant, consisting of pre-treatment tanks, filter, stills, pumps, heat exchange, iron platform and assortment of valves and piping. Information on application. jy26-6t

JEWS TO OBSERVE NEW YEAR

Important Event in Hebrew Calendar on September 9th—Preparations for Its Celebration.

Rosh Hashanah, the Hebrew New Year, will be celebrated this year September 9, and 10 days later, September 19, Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, will be observed. As is the custom special services will be held in the Jewish synagogues. Jews all over the world observe these holy days. Rosh Hashanah is one of the most solemn feasts of the Hebrews religion.

In the Jewish tradition, the Rosh Hashanah marks the aniversary of the creation of the world, suposed to have taken place 5,676 years ago. The present Rosh Hashanah, therefore, will mark the beginning of the year 5676.

The change of date, however, is of little or no importance, and if the Jewish New Year's Day had no further significance its appeal to the Jew would be very faint indeed. It is not the change of year, but the change of life, that this day stresses, that makes it stand out as one of the hollest days in the Jewish calendar. Herein it radically differs from the civil New Year; it is a day set apart for introspection and self-examination.

The sacred character of this day is implied in the two other names by which it is known, viz, the day of memorial and the day of the blowing of the trumpets. In the first place it is the day of memorial, or remembrance. As such, it calls upon the Jew to remember the divine purposes of his life; secondly, it is the day of the blowing of the trumpets. Its purpose is to rouse Israel from his self-complacency and stir him to high resolves and nobler deeds.

The Rosh Hashanah derives its significance from the fact that it is but the introduction to the day of atonement which follows 10 days later. "Before one can realize the need of atonement," says a statement, "it is necessary that he become conscious of his shortcomings, for so long as we imagine ourselves whole, it may never occur to us that we need a physician; so long as we do no admit our sinfulness, we shall hardly feel the need of being forgiven.

"Hence, to make the atonement possible, we must have Rosh Hashanah, which is also designated as the Yom Hadin—the day of judgment—the day whereon we weigh ourselves in the balance, and perforce, find ourselves wanting; for 'there is no righteous man upon earth that doeth good always and sinneth not.'"

The essential ceremony of the services in the synagoguge on Rosh Hashanah is the blowing of the trumpet, in accordance with the injunction in Leviticus 23:24, which reads: "In the seventh month, on the first day of the month shall ye have a Sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, and holy convocation."

FUNERAL OF CAPTAIN MINTZ HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Interment in Oakdale Cemetery in Wilmington—Many Friends Attend.

Following funeral services at Southport yesterday moring the remains of Capt. J. W. Mintz were brought to Wilmington on the steamer Wilmington yesterday afternoon and the interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The burial was with Masonic honors, a large delegation from Pythagoras lodge at Southport accompanying the remains to this city. There was a short service at the grave conducted by Rev. W. M. Craig, pastor of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. W. G. Hall, pastor of Southside Baptist church. The services at Southport were conducted by Rev. A. R. Parshley, Rev. C. N. Philips and Rev. Mr. Wheeler

The pallbearers were members of Pythagoras lodge of Masons and were as follows: Capt. Henry Philips, E. H. Cranmer, Esq., and Messrs. J. Berg, C. N. Philips, B. J. Holden and Sanford Ruark. There were many friends in attendance at the services both at Southport and in Wilmington.

Captain Mintz was born at Southport and was 67 years old. He lived at Southport until about seven years ago, when he with his wife, moved to Wilmington, because his boys were in this city in business and the greatest delight of his life was to be near his sons. For 40 years he was a pilot of the seas and had braved many storms of a terrific nature. For about 15 years he was a captain on the Cape Fear river. He was a Confederate veteran and rendered valiant service for his country.

Some eight weeks ago his wife died and since that time he had been unwell. He spent several weeks with his son, Mr. F. R. Mintz, at Mt. Olive but later went to Southport to visit his brother, Mr. A. E. O. Mintz. While there the was taken seriously ill with Bright's disease. He never murmured or complained while sick but bore with patience and fortitude his every pain.

Surviving are four sons and one daughter, these being Mr. Fred R. Mintz, of Mount Olive, editor of the Tribune of that place and representative of his county in the legislature; Mr. Harry C. Mintz, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mr. William J. Mintz, of Wilmington; Rev. Eugene G. Mintz, of Richmond ,Va., and Miss Cassie Mintz, formerly of this city, but recently of Mount Olive. Surviving also is one brother, Mr. Henry E. O. Mintz, of Southport.

ROBBERIES ELSEWHERE

Officers Here From Chadbourn in Search of Possible Storebreakers.

Chief of Police Benton and Mr. Pritchard Lennon, of Chadbourn, came to Wilmington on the early morning train yesterday to make a search for a negro who is thought to be responsible for several store robberies on the W. C. & A. railroad during the past several days.

Among the stores broken into was that of the Brown Mercantile Co., at Chadbourn, and a store at Malmo, N. C., both of which robberies were reported to Wilmington with the information that the negroes were thought to be on their way here with part, at least of the stolen goods, consisting mainly of shoes and clothing. One of the negroes was overhauled at Malmo Thursday and one of the officers emptied his revolver at him without topping him.

Chief Benton and Mr. Lennon came to Wilmington with the hope of locating a negro here, but apparently met with no success and returned to Chadbourn.

An Open Cotton Boll.

Mr. E. A. Crumpler, of Fints, N. C., one of the most successful farmers and business men of that section, sends The Star an open cotton boll from a field of six acres described by all who have seen it as giving promise of three bales to the acre. From the six acres Mr. Crumpler expects at least 17 bales, said a gentleman who came in last night after taking a look over the field.

WILMINGTON SLEPT IN PEACE

Burglars Kept Quiet and No Home Was Molested Thursday Night—Plainclothesmen on Job.

Wilmington slept in peace Thursday night while plainclothesmen, policemen, county officers and others kept a diligent patrol of the residence section of the city. This was the first night in a week that a home had not been entered by a mysterious thief who worked so quietly that he could enter homes, search the different rooms, make way with the small change he found and never disturb the sleeping occupants.

Wilmington could stand for a few comings and going of such a thief but it continued too long. Chief of Police Williams redoubled his efforts and Councilman Hall, in charge of the department of public safety, resolved that the thief should be caught. Extra men were put on the job looking for him. Indignant citizens locked their doors, laid trusted firearms near at hand and dared a burglar to enter their homes. They did more. They watched with scrutinous eyes every passing man.

Ever and anon throughout Thursday night there would be a call at the police station.

"What is it?" the night sergeant would inquire.

"There is a suspicious looking man across the street," would be the reply.

"That is a policeman," the sergeant would explain.

It is not a safe proposition to be out after midnight. Newspapermen have to work late some times. One started home yesterday morning about 3 o'clock and ran into a plainclothesman.

"Hello, Cap," was the salutation from the officer.

There was a lingering look in the officer's face as if he thought that possibly it was the newspaper man who had been doing those stunts the past week. The newspaper man felt around for his howitzer and walked along.

He strolled into the place he calls home. A light was turned on and in a moment there was heard the step of a man in the alley. It was a plainclothesman on the watch to see if he was a burglar. The newspaper man coughed loudly. He threw a shoe on the floor. He didn't dare make any explanations.

People going to the beach and returning on the late car were shadowed as they went to their homes. Some of them felt as mean as if they had actually been guilty of a robbery. But they couldn't get mad. They, too, wanted to see the burglar caught.

It's a safe proposition in Wilmington to be at home after midnight, provided the doors are all locked and the windows fastened.

Latest report: No burglar has been caught.

MODERN JITNEY BUSSES.

Auto Transit Company Puts Two in Operation Beginning Today.

The jitney business in Wilmington has developed to that extent that the Auto Transit Company, which has been in operation here several months, will this morning put on Route No. 2, from Front and Red Cross to Delgado, a new and modern jitney bus body that will much better take care of its travel. These bodies seat 10 persons comfortably and are decidedly attractive in appearance and will make the jitney come with even more appeal to the public. Another of the bodies is ready for mounting on the chassis of one of the cars already in service and other bodies will be received later for the service. The Auto Transit Co., is operated independently of the Wilmington Taxicab Company, which is in the general auto livery business.

FUNERAL OF MR. ARTHUR

Services From Residence at Delgado Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mr. Henry Clinton Arthur, whose death occurred at his home at Delgado Thursday afternoon, was conducted from the residence yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. J .P. King, pastor of Sixth Street Advent Christian church. The services were attended by many friends. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. J. C. Wallace, J. C. Walker, A. S. Jones, J. F. Rushing, R. S. Scott and A. L. Caison.

Arch-Deacon Noe to Preach.

Whiteville News-Reporter: "The Rev. Thos. P. Noe will preach at the Grace Episcopal church, Whiteville, next Sunday. Services will be held in the morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 8. Mr. Noe will preach at both services, and the general public is cordially invited to attend."

WEATHER GENERALLY COOL

First Touch of Autumn Shown Yesterday When Thermometer Registered Maximum of 80 Degrees.

It will not be long now before the summer is gone, and the weather has already begun to moderate. With a maximum of 80 degrees yesterday Wilmington shared with the rest of the country the generally cool spell of weather that is now prevailing. Only in the lower Mississippi valley and along the South Atlantic Coast was there much evidence of summer from a weather standpoint and here the temperatures ranged around 90, Jacksonville being the highest with 94.

The sun was obscured by a hazy cloudiness and late in the afternoon there was a trace of rain. The wind blew gently from the south and the weather generally was what one would expect to see in early autumn. The forecast today is for showers with fair weather for tomorrow.

But summer is now nearly gone and soon Palm Beach suits will have to be laid on the shelf.

Wilmington was much warmer than places further up State. Asheville had a maximum of 68 and Charlotte was 74 while Raleigh had only 78. There was but little change in the temperature last night.

The cool weather has been followed generally by showers and rain was reported both in Asheville and Charlotte while it was cloudy in Raleigh.

St .Louis had seven inches of rainfall yesterday and was also the coolest place in the United States, having a maximum of 64 degrees while the minimum was 80 degrees.

RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Juniors Had Big Time in Charlotte—Retiring State Councilor to Carry on Moonlight School Work.

Representatives from the two Wilmington Councils of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics returned early yesterday morning on the Seaboard train from Charlotte, where they spent three days in attendance upon the State convention of this order. Woodus Kellum, Esq., at the closing meeting Thursday afternoon introduced a resolution providing for an appropriation of $1,500 for carrying on moonlight school work in North Carolina and directing retiring State Councilor Paul Jones, of Tarboro, to take up this work as field agent and accredited representative of the order.

Jeff Davis Council, of Wilmington, was represented at the convention by Messrs. Woodus Kellum, B. F. Brittain, Jr., and W. R. Yopp and George Washington Council by Messrs. A. W. Branch, J. T. Eagles and Ed. Register.

Mr. Kelum's resolution setting forth provisions for carrying on the moonlight school work was as follows:

"Whereas, the adage 'reading by the lightwood knot fire' has been dethroned and the idea of the moonlight schools has been enthroned in North Carolina primarily by the efforts exerted by our retiring State councilor during the past year, aided by the hearty co-operation of the 35,000 Juniors in North Carolina.

"And, whereas there has been an educational awakening in the last decade in North Carolina which has far surpassed and far exceeds that of any other people of any State in the nation in the world's history, but all of which looked to the education of the youth and future generations.

"And, whereas, the Junior Order, conscious of the fact that there are in North Carolina a large number of adults who are unable to enjoy the privilege of reading or writing, who are, therefore, deprived of the right in their idle or lonely moments of communing with the sages of the past and the wisards of the present.

"And, whereas, our retiring State councilor, Paul Jones, is entitled to much of the credit for begining a campaign in North Carolina which must in a short time result in the elimination of adult illiteracy in the Old North State, for by this system the Juniors go out into the highways and hedges and bring to the moonlight schools, the adult illiterate in North Carolina.

"Be it further resolved that Paul Jones, the retiring State councilor, be and is hereby authorized, empowered and delegated for and on behalf of the Junior Order of North Carolina, as its agent and representative to carry forward this work and, if possible, to eliminate adult illiteracy in North Carolina, on whose warrants or application the sum of $1,500 shall be issued for such purpose and who shall submit a written report of his acts at the next session of the convention."

"The resolution of Br. Kelium passed without aught by enthusiastic comment," says the Charlotte Observer. "It was taken as entirely fitting that this appropriation should not only be made but that Mr. Jerome should be continued in harness until a more definite plan of attack on behalf of adult illiteracy in North Carolina should have been worked out. It was largely through the efforts of Mr. Jones that this idea was started and the agitation kept up so fat and his brethren apparently took pleasure in honoring him with abundant opportunity for carrying on this work.

"As a further token of the regard of the order for Mr. Jones, his untiring service in behalf of the organization, his interest and his labors, he was presented with a silver service by his fellows the gift being one of superlative value and beauty."

DID NEGRO VIOLATE LAW?

Recorder Takes Case of Hunch Holly Under Advisement—Get Whiskey.

Hunch Holly, colored, who has figured in numerous cases before the Recorder, had a hearing yesterday on a charge of violating the prohibition law. It was alleged that the negro had received four gallons of whiskey in a trunk which was sent from Florence, S. C. However, Holly said he bought the trunk from another negro for $12 the latter being afraid to take it out of the freight station for fear of violating the prohibition law. Holly wanted to be sure that the whiskey was in the trunk, he said, and had the trunk taken to his room before paying for it.

Solicitor Peschau contended that Holly had received more than a quart of whiskey at a point in the State which is a violation of the statute that makes it unlawful to receive more than one quart of whiskey every 15 days. The Recorder wasn't so sure of this, however, and held the case under advisement until Tuesday. Holly gave bond in the sum of $50.

George Williams, a colored drayman, who entered in a fisticuff with H. F. McQueen, also colored, in which fence rails, rocks, knives, razors and other weapons were used, was fined $10 and the cost. Williams took an appeal but this was later withdrawn. McQueen was cut on the arm and Williams got a stab in his shoulder. Maurice Griffen, colored, was found not guilty of slander.

NEW TOWER LIGHT.

Notice of Importance to Mariners Along North Carolina Coast.

About September 15 a light is to be established on the water tower at Morehead City, N. C., about 140 feet above water, about northwest from entrance to harbor from sea. It is to be a fixed white light of 400 candlepower, the Lighthouse Board announces.

It is reported by the commanding officer of the lighthouse tender Orchid that a depth of 13 1-2 feet only exists on the Shackleford Point range, Beaufort Harbor, N. C., about 200 yards from the intersection with Bird Island range. The best water in this entrance is reported to be to the eastward of the Shackleford Point range, nearly on the Bird Island range. Vessels drawing over 13 feet should use this entrance with caution, pending proposed dredging operations and subsequent revision of aids.

THEATRICAL

Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby have put just another big one over in "My Tomboy Girl," the greatest two-reel comedy yet produced by this popular pair, and which features today's big week-end bill at the Bijou, the place where you'll see all the new, big things. Everybody cherishes fond memories of school days, and even if some of their experiences were unpleasant at the time they occurred, we can well afford to look back upon our juvenile tragedies now with amusement.

"My Tomboy Girl" is two full reels of the cleanest, breeziest farce comedy that has yet escaped from Universal City, and everyone who sees it, it is guaranteed will like it, and say that it is one of the very best comedy productions they have ever seen—not of the slap-stick kind, but just good, clean, natural comedy situations and the best of this great pair of serio-comedians.

"Her Wonderful Day" is a great single reel Rex drama that also occupies an important part on today's big bill, and is a beautiful romantic story in a full reel.

Ben Wilson and Dorothy Phillips make their second appearance of the week in "The Proof," a strong single reel dramatic feature, with the comedy element not lacking. All of the Phillips-Wilson productions are good, but this one is exceptionally clever, as you will agree.

Good Show on at the Grand.

"The Straight and Narrow Path," a powerful two-act modern Kalem drama, featuring Marian Sais and Arthur Shirley. We have selected a charming Vitgraph comedy for today entitled "All Account of Towser." There are many funny surprises and the unexpected happens frequently. Towser is a bright dog and trained to collect coal for his owner, old man Scranton. He simply runs out and barks at the trainman as the train goes by the house, whereat a shower of coal from the train crew invariably follows, and then the fun begins. It's a Vitagraph and a sure laugh maker, don't miss it, if you enjoy a good scream.

George Ade is handing out some good comedy for today in "The Fable of the Scoffer Who Fell Hard." Mr. Pallsey was a Beetle Baseball. Although he had heard of golf he vowed he would never waste any time watching the fool game. But one Sunday he was hooked in for fair. After trailing behind numerous bugs for eighteen holes, he stood off and smiled in a superior manner, saying he would like to swat the Robin's Egg just once. And it wasn't long before he had a big supply of clubs. The disease had struck him hard. He gave up business, and what follows you will see at the Grand this very day. Where you always see a good show. The admission is five cents. Monday attraction extraordinary. Marguerite Clark, the sweetest little dear on the screen, under the direction of Daniel Frohman in "The Crucible," by Mark Lee Luther. Special music from 7 p. m. A six-piece orchestra will render appropriate selections to accompany this wonderful picture.

TRADE AT HOME

Give the Local Merchant the benefit of your trade, and by so doing keep money at home.

No community can prosper by foreign buying.

The secret of community prosperity is to sell more to the outsider than the outsider sells to us, thus making the trade balance run in our favor.

This policy brings in more wealth than goes out, and constantly adds to local resources.

It makes better business, higher wages, and a more prosperous community.

We are interested in any movement that looks to local improvement, and recommend the Buy at Home Policy for the general good.

PRINCIPAL FOR WILLISTON

Supt. John J .Blair Busy Getting Ready for Fall Opening of Schools.

Supt. John J. Blair, of the city schools, who arrived Thursday night for High Point, where he is spending the summer, was busy yesterday looking after various details that must be attended to before the schools open in the fall. Mr. Blair while in the city will select a principal for the new Williston colored industrial school .It is hoped to secure a man for this position who is acquainted with agriculture and horticulture. Work is in progress on the repairs of the old Williston school, which is also to be used for colored pupils this season.

Mr. Blair visited all the school buildings yesterday morning for the purpose of seeing what repair work has been done during the summer by the janitors and also to see what repairs are still needed. All the repair work on the school buildings is now done by the janitors, who are carried on the pay rolls during the summer, and this is said to have proven to make a very satisfactory arrangement.

FUNERAL OF MR. HAAR

Services Held Yesterday Morning From Residedce—Interment in Oakdale.

The funeral of Mr. J. Charles Haar, whose death occurred early Thursday morning by drowning in the Cape Fear river ,was held from the home of his mother, No. 409 South Fourth street, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock and the services were conducted by Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, formerly pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church. There by Rev. G. W. McClanahan, pastor of St. Matthew's utheran church. There were a large number of friends who attended the services and many beautiful floral designs. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. William Rehder, Herbert Steljes, J. B. Avant, H. F. Otten, E. T. Hancock and F. A. Bissenger.

NEGRO DROPPED DEAD

Luke Waddell Died Suddenly at Gas Plant of Tidewater Power Co.

Luke Waddell, a respected colored man, died suddenly at the gas plant of the Tidewater Power Company at the foot of Castle street yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. He was working at the plant and was apparently as well as usual. He started out through a door and was seen to throw his hand to his head and fall. He died shortly after. Heart trouble is thought to have been the cause of his death.

He was 52 years old and lived on Eighth street between Dawson and Wright. Coroner A. S. Holden made an investigation but did not consider an inquest necessary.

Office in Pythian Building.

Mr. W. A. McGowan, who is a justice of the peace, has opened an office on the second floor of the Pythian building on Princess street. He will be glad to have his friends call to see him. Mr. McGowan has completely recovered from his recent illness, his many friends will be glad to learn.

Another one of those funny Jarr family series will be seen on the screen at Lumina tonight. It is no. 11 of the series and is entitled "Mr. Jarr and the Ladies." In this the maid wins a prize at a dance after which they all go for a big frolic. This picture is followed by a Western drama, "Across the Desert," in which Tom Mix is featured. "Trapped," a single reel "Essanay" feature completes the programme.

MR. AND MRS. WEBBER ENTERTAIN AT SEASIDE CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Webber entertained more than fifty of their friends at the Hanover Seaside Club last night at a luncheon which was distinctly characteristic of Mr. Webber, who is an Elk. The "spread" was really Germanic and the decorations most appropriate and beautiful. Mr. Webber did the grand act in his own way and his delighted friends speak of it in enthusiastic terms.

An orchestra had been employed for the evening and along with the home like supper, etc., the dancing was that which the older friends of Mr. and Mrs. Webber could participate in—waltzing and the Virginia reel.

Those who returned to the city reluctantly caught the last car up.

CHILDREN'S NIGHT AT LUMINA GREAT SUCCESS

In spite of the rather cool weather, there was a large audience at Lumina last night. The special feature of the evening was an hour given over to the children. This was greatly enjoyed not only by the children but also by the grown-ups. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cantwell led the grand march in which more than 200 children took part. Dainty souvenirs were given.

An impromptu feature of the programme which had not been previously announced was the singing by little Miss Sarah Frances Kirkpatrick, the seven-year-old daughter of Dr. M. B. Kirkpatrick, of Montgomery, Ala. Not only is she a clever singer but she is also an impersonator and dances exquisitely. She was given a most cordial reception by the audience. Her first selection was "Whop,Whop, Whop," and this was followed by a Spanish solo dance both of which were very much enjoyed. She responded to the encore by singing "Little Ford Rambler."

Charged With Larceny.

Ben Hill, colored, is in the county jail awaiting a preliminary hearing before Justice Harriss on a charge of being implicated in the larceny of a bath tub from the residence on the northeast corner of Second and Ann streets about two weeks ago. Hill was arrested yesterday by County Officer H. Mack Godwin and committed to jail in default of bond. Cal Jones, a colored drayman, who hauled the tub from the house to a plumbing establishment, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Harriss several days ago and was bound over to Superior Court in the sum of $200. Jones claims that he was hired to haul the tub.

Go to Church if You Wish to Be Healthy In Mind and Body

GO TO CHURCH if you wish to be healthy!

A healthy mind means a healthy body. No man who does not GO TO CHURCH can have a healthy mind. A clear conscience is the greatest tonic for the body. No man can have a clear conscience unless he GOES TO CHURCH. Faith and deep religion can accomplish more than the most renowned physician. No man is happy in sin. True happiness may be found in God. You cannot commune with God unless you go to the house of God. God is the great healer.

LET ANY CHRISTIAN MAN DENY THAT HE IS UNHAPPY WHEN HE QUITS THE CHURCH. HE MAY BE RICH AND ENJOY HIMSELF WITHOUT STINT WITH THE PLEASURES OF THIS WORLD, BUT IN THE FINAL ANALYSIS HE KNOWS AND FEELS THAT THERE IS SOMETHING LACKING. MEN WHO HAVE NOT ENTERED A CHURCH IN YEARS CAN'T CONCEAL THEIR DELIGHT WHEN THEY GET BACK TO THE FOLD. THEY KNOW THEY ARE DOING RIGHT WHEN THEY GO TO CHURCH. AND THERE IS GREAT SATISFACTION IN DOING WHAT IS RIGHT.

Therefore, while there are a thousand and one reasons why a person should GO TO CHURCH, not the least of these is the reason that GOING TO CHURCH makes for a long and happy life on this earth and life eternal in the hereafter.

Be healthy in mind and body!

GO TO CHURCH Sunday and every Sunday!

Get your neighbor to do likewise!

Help along the splendid GO TO CHURCH movement in this glorious land of ours!

Beautiful, but Broke; or, How She Lost $6,000,000

Mrs. Maude Brevoort Barclay.

The strange story of the loss of $6,000,000 by a New York society beauty came out in court the other day when a judge fined her $250 for contempt in failing to explain why she could not pay a debt of $3,027. The alternative for the fine is imprisonment, for despite the general belief to the contrary, they still imprison for debt in New York city and state.

It developed that Mrs. Barclay had filed a petition in bankruptcy, and that practically all her great fortune was gone.

Where the well known society leader's $6,000,000, represented by large holdings, has vanished was explained by her lawyer, Norman W. Kerngood. He said Mrs. Barclay, like many other social leaders, had intrusted her business affairs to agents and servants.

The result was that Mrs. Barclay's agents borrowed money at usurious rates, paid exorbitant bonuses for loans and made unreasonable and unbusinesslike concessions to tenants. This mismanagement had brought her to a point where she had little more than $30,000 worth of realty left.

The marriage of Mrs. Barclay to her present husband was, like her first wedding, an affair of much social prominence. She is the daughter of the late George W. Fowler, of Tarrytown. Until a few years ago she exhibited at the horse shows.

Her first husband, Augustus Browning Prentice, was left a vast fortune by his father ,but the task of looking after it weighed so heavily upon the son's mind that he became afflicted with nervous disorders and he was finally committed to Bellevue, where he died in 1906.

COTTON MARKET NERVOUS

International Situation Again Considered—Early Losses Partly Recovered—Close Was Steady.

New York, Aug. 20.—Nervousness over the international situation as a result of the Arabic affair was in evidence during the entire day in the cotton market, but early losses were partly recovered with the close steady at 9.62 for December, or 6 to 9 points net lower.

There was quite a flurry of liquidation at the start and after opening at a decline of four to 13 points, active months sold 15 to 17 points net lower, with October breaking to 9.25 and December to 9.55. Weakness in Liverpool, the opening decline in the stock market, and a sharp break in New Orleans helped to unsettle sentiment here, but offerings here were pretty well taken at the decline and after the first spurt of selling had subsided, prices turned steadier on covering of shorts, a little buying of October by Liverpool and moderate support from local bulls. Conflicting reports as to the details of the attack on the Arabic caused more or less irregularity during the day, and some scattered selling was inspired by reassuring private crop advices from the Southwest, but comparatively slight reactions were followed by renewed steadiness in the late trading, when October contracts worked up to 9.34 and December to 9.63, or about 8 to 9 points from the low level of the morning.

This late rally appeared to be accompanied by a feeling that the sinking of the Arabic had been under circumstances which would render additional complications unlikely and the demand seemed to come partly from early sellers.

The market closed steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Heavy Selling Kept Prices Under the Level of Previous Day.

New Orleans, Aug. 20.—Fear of impending political complications and reports from Texas that the storm damage had been over-estimated caused heavy selling of cotton today as soon as the market opened. Prices were kept below the level of yesterday's close throughout the session. At the lowest the active months were 15 to 18 points down. Several partial recoveries took place but the close was at a net loss of 7 to 10 points.

The only support the market received was from shorts who were apparently satisfied with their profits and wanted to realize. This buying checked the initial decline and around noon prices were within six points of yesterday's finals.

The activities of German submarines gave the market an unsettled tone in the afternoon.

Texas reports, in the main, were much more favorable than they have been. Many of them claimed that the recent rains would produce much more cotton than had been lost through the storm.

Futures closed barely steady at a net decline of 7 to 10 points. Closing: October 9.12; December 9.38; January 9.52; March 9.76; May 9.98.

Spot quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot 455 bales; to arrive 220. Middling 9.07.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.

Liverpool, Aug. 20.—Spot cotton easier; good middling 5.73; middling 5.42; low middling 4.96. Sales 12,000; for speculation and export 2,000; receipts none.

Futures quiet: August 5.29; August and September 5.29; September and October 5.32½; October and November 5.39½; November and December 5.44½; December and January 5.49; January and February 5.53; February and March 5.57; March and April 5.61; April and May 5.64½; May and June 5.68; June and July 5.71; July and August 5.74; August and September 5.77.

NEW YORK DRY GOODS.

New York, Aug. 20.—Cotton goods of a staple character were quiet today with prices easier. Yarns were quiet and wool markets firm. Ribbons were more active and knit goods firmer.

PRICE OF WHEAT LOWERED

Shrinkage of Export Demand by Sinking of Arabic—Close Was Steady But Under Previous Day.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Shrinkage of export demand principally on account of the sinking of the Arabic and the reported sinking of the Bovic did a good deal today to lower the price of wheat. The market, although steady, at the close was 1 to 1⅛c net lower with September at 1.04⅝ and December at 1.02¾. Corn showed a set-back of ¼ to ⅝, and oats off a shade to ¼. In provisions the outcome varied from 7½ decline to a rise of 5c.

Grain and provisions closing:

Wheat	Sept.	1.04⅝	Dec.	1.02¾
Corn	Sept.	75⅝	Dec.	63⅝

STOCKS WERE DEPRESSED

Sinking of Arabic Constituted Almost Sole Market Influence—War Issues Suffered Severely.

New York, Aug. 20.—The sinking of the British liner Arabic constituted almost the sole market influence today, stocks being depressed for the greater part of the active session, with irregular improvement at the close. War specialties suffered the most severe losses, their declines at the outset extending from 2 to 8 points. United States Steel and some investment railway shares also felt the force of the selling pressure, much of which appeared to emanate from professional sources.

There were feverish rallies and declines in the course of the day. Dealings again attained very large proportions.

Of the total Steel contributed about 20 per cent. Other shares which sold largely including Westinghouse, American Can, Crucible Steel, Allis Chalmers and Tennessee Copper, Bethlehem Steel issues, while not among the active stocks of their class, achieved sudden prominence in the later dealings, the common advancing 10 points to 285, and the preferred 6¾ points. Many margined accounts were closed out as a result of the heavy losses recorded at the opening and to that extent the technical position of the market probably is sounder than for some weeks past.

Exchange markets indicated by their further strength that progress is being made in the discussions now under way to establish foreign credits in this market. Cables stating that several of London's most distinguished financiers are to visit this country for the purpose of fixing exchange conditions were hailed with satisfaction in local banking circles.

Bonds were mostly lower, the only marked exception being Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific 5s, which rose with the shares. Total sales, par value, amounted to $3,165,000. Panama 4s declined ¼c and the 2s 1 per cent on call.

WEEK IN COTTON WAS AN EXTREMELY NERVOUS ONE.

Market Disturbed by Sinking of Arabic and Tropical Storm.

New York, Aug. 20.—The cotton market has been extremely nervous and irregular during the past week with sentiment disturbed by uncertainty as to the effects of the severe storm in the southwest, and more recently by apprehension that the sinking of the Arabic might further complicate international relations. Prices at the close of business today ruled around 933 for October and 962 for December, comparing with 934 and 964 at the close of the previous week. Reports of a rapidly increasing movement of new crop cotton in the southeast, accompanied by some scattered selling here for Texas account, imparted rather an easier tone in the market at the beginning of the week when bearish sentiment was also encouraged by rains in some of the droughty sections, the weakness in Sterling Exchange and expectations that the allies would add cotton to their list of contraband. The decline was checked around 9.46 for December contracts by the appearance of the tropical storm which led to apprehensions of considerable lamage in the Texas fields, while covering was also promoted by a withdrawal of Southwestern offerings and private crop reports indicating that the deterioration in crop promises during the first half of the August period had been about 6 per cent or somewhat in excess of the average. Many traders, however, felt that the heavy rains accompanying the storm in the western belt would prove beneficial to the ultimate yield, and the market met increased offerings on a rally to 946 for December with yesterday's fluctuations very irregular, owing to nervousness over international conditions. Liverpool was credited with buying largely here during the week, presumably to undo old straddles, and some bullish sentiment was created by reports that Southern bankers were prepared to assist a determined new crop holding movement, and claims that a contraband declaration had been discounted.

NOTHING DISQUIETING IN FOREIGN MONETARY TROUBLES

Dun's Weekly Review of the Financial and Business Situation.

New York, Aug. 20.—Dun's will say tomorrow:

"International monetary complications and disturbances in the ranks of laber costitute the chief elements of uncertainty in the general situation. There is, however, nothing either unsound or disquieting in strictly domestic finance, and though further controversies between employers nd wage-earners have arisen, serious and protracted troubles have thus far been averted. The foreign exchange problems which attract much attention are essentially those of the belligerent nations abroad and affect this country mainly in the sense that export trade may be impeded unless relief is afforded. Recent importations of gold failed to check the depreciation of European funds in the New York market and more effective means will be necessary to effect changes that are wholly lacking in precedent. Negotiations are under way with this end in view, but the exact nature of the remedial measures to be adopted remains largely a matter of conjecture. Because it was attended by considerable loss of life and destruction of property, the most adverse event of the week was the storm that completely isolated several cities along the coast of Texas. Shipping and railroad traffic suffered and growing cotton was damaged, though to what extent is not definitely known. Otherwise, the leading crops are doing finely. Gross earnings of roads reporting for the first week of August made a better showing than for the same period of any previous month this year.

"Weekly bank clearings $2,986,266,912, an increase of 62.8 per cent. over last year when most of the exchanges were closed."

PRESIDENT GETS LOST ON PHILADELPHIA TRIP

Takes Lunch In Public Dining Room of Hotel

Calls to See Oculist, Strolls Business Streets of City and Rides Back to Washington in Public Railroad Car.

Washington, Aug. 20.—President Wilson slipped away from the White House soon after 6 o'clock this morning and before Washington was awake was off to Philadelphia in a motor car to visit his oculist. He returned this evening by train, after having broken some Presidential precedents. He had been lost on the road, had lunched unannounced in the public dining room of a Philadelphia hotel, strolled the streets of the business section of Philadelphia, rode back to Washington in a public railroad car and driven to the White House in a hired automobile.

In Baltimore, the Presidential party turned the wrong way and had to seek directions before the Philadelphia road was found. It was after 1 o'clock before Philadelphia was reached.

News of the President's coming had preceded him, however, and a crowd of photographers and moving picture men greeted him as he stepped from the automobile at the door of the oculist. He remained with the oculist less than half an hour and was told that his eyes were in excellent condition.

In the meantime, Dr. Grayson and a secret service man had left for the railroad station on a fruitless mission to engage a private car to return to Washington. The President had decided that a return trip by automobile would be too tiresome. No private car was available, so a Pullman drawing room was reserved.

On the ride back to Washington the President left the door of his drawing room open. The other passengers were much interested. Master Robert Swan, five years old, of Norfolk, Va., was presented to the distinguished traveler at his father's request.

GEORGIA OFFICIALS AND COURT ALONE TO DEAL WITH MOB

of Coroner John Booth, of Cobb county, who empanelled a jury soon after he cut down Frank' body last Tuesday morning, but postponed the sitting for a week after hearin gthe evidence of two witnesses as to the identity of the "vigilance committee's" victim.

Two Witnesses See Party.

Coroner Booth said today that thus far he had discovered only two witnesses who had seen the lynching party in automobiles approaching the vicinity of the giant oak near the Frey gin. One of these witnesses is William Frey himself, but neither was able to fix the identity of any member of the party. The members of the lynching "committee" wore heavy automobile goggles, which effectively served the purpose of masks.

"I am sworn to inquire and to inquire diligently," he said, "and I am going to do it."

The lynching was referred to today by one citizen of Marietta as "the storm that recently passed."

"We are not sorry it was done; we are sorry it had to be done," was the way another resident expressed the feeling of a large part of the community today. It was freely admitted that the action of the "vigilance committee" might lead to other lawlessness that would be deeply regretted.

Reports have said that the identity of many members of the lynching "committee" was known to a majority of the residents of Marietta. Diligent inquiry today by persons who know Marietta and her people proved these reports untrue. The people of Marietta either do not know or do not want to know who constituted the lynching party.

Tree Being Guarded.

The trunk of the oak tree to which Frank was hanged was covered today with cotton bagging. This was done to protect it from souvenir hunters. The tree is guarded day and night. Mr. Frey, owner of the place, reiterated today that he had been offered as high as $250 for the tree. He refused to sell.

"I did not need the money," he said, "and besides, Mary Phagan's folks don't want the tree cut down. Several of her people came out here today. They hugged and patted that old tree and they stood still and looked upward for a long time. I think they must have been praying."

WHAT NEWSPAPERS SAY OF THE ARABIC INCIDENT

facts. * * * We should not reach the hasty conclusion * * * that Germany has been "deliberately unfriendly." * * * We do not believe President Wilson will act hastily or unadivsedly.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch: Unless the German government disavows it, the evidence of Germany's utter disregard of American rights, and of the protests and warnings of our government is convincing.

Cincinnati Volksblatt: All indications point to a satisfactory explanation of the sinking of the Arabic. The fact, however, remains that amiable relations between the United States and Germany hang by a thread which might be snapped at any moment by some untoward incident. This uncomfortable state of affairs could be easily removed by applying common sense which would and ought to induce the President to tell American citizens to save their country from embarrassment by traveling under the American flag.

New York (Evening) Staats Zeitung: To deny that the already delicate situation has been strained by the sinking of the Arabic to the point of an open breach would mean to play the role of the ostrich. * * * The friendly relations, which are so close to our hearts, are seriously threatened. * * * The situation is serious * * * because, as the case of the Arabic again shows, the German government, if it would not commit suicide, never more will or can agree to the terms of our government.

Newyorker (Evening) Herold: With the German war authorities a war measure is found necessary because of circumstances, but a defiance of the United States was not intended. In that we are certain. * * * Will the efforts now succeed to make America an open ally of England? Is the question asked in the British cabinet? We believe not.

New York Evening Post: It is useless to heap words to show how critical is the situation. * * * The whole tale is not yet told, but enough is known to prove that the commander of the submarine acted in defiance of the distinct warning given by President Wilson.

Brooklyn Eagle: Assuming that all the circumstances are as reported, the first step he (the President) must take, a step that can no longer be avoided without national abasement and humiliation, is to send Count Von Bernstorff out of the country and simultaneously recall Mr. Gerard from Berlin. After that Congress could well be assembled to provide for whatever may be forced upon us.

New York Herald: There is no disposition on the part of the representative newspapers or of the public generally to prejudice the case against Germany. Like the President, the people are waiting the official reports; also like the President they are waiting calmly and determinedly.

New York Times: A disclaimer from Germany of any unfriendly intent, a disavowal of the acts of the naval officers who sank the Lusitania, and the Arabic, would be most welcome. We earnestly desire continued and undisturbed friendly relations with Germany. But if appeal and remonstrance fail, as they have repeatedly failed, other measures must be taken to defend and protect the rights Germany has violated.

Chicago Abend Post: Individuals and newspapers who, without waiting to hear the facts and circumstances of the case, declare the sinking of the Arabic to be a deliberately unfriendly act in the sense of the President's recent note to Germany and ask expectantly: "Well, what now?" show by this only that they wish and will have if possible a break between the United States and Germany. By this they show they are un-American and un-patriotic. America's interest demands peace. No sane man can believe that a war with Germany would benefit this country.

Pueblo (Colorado) Chieftain: It would be unreasonable to expect the German naval commanders to give free passage to a ship westbound when the same ship was serving as a war cargo carrier on the eastbound trip.

Washington Star: If * * * the German government does not repudiate the action of the submarine commander it cannot be construed as otherwise than an act "deliberately unfriendly." * * * The people are confident that the President will in this new crisis maintain the principles that have been so plainly enunciated and that are so strongly indorsed by the country.

New York World: Our relations with Germany have reached a crisis but that is all the more reason why we should be cool and self possessed. * * * To deal diplomatically with a government that shows no capacity for good faith is a difficult task. If President Wilson finally fails, all Americans will have the satisfaction of knowing that he has done his best and no moral responsibility rests upon the United States, come what may.

New York Tribune: We have done with Germany. All but the formal steps have been taken to separate us from the country whose statesmen have made murder a governmental policy and neutral American citizens the targets for German torpedoes. We are done with notes, explanations; we are done with words altogether. What is to be done will be done promptly, fearlessly, finally.

Philadelphia Record: It suffices to say that the position of the government of the United States as outlined in three emphatic notes is unalterable, and the country will back up the President whole-heartedly in maintaining American rights on the seas from whatever quarter violated without compromise and at any cost.

Columbia State: Americans will stand confident that the honor and security of the American nation are safe in the hands of Woodrow Wilson, that * * * he will omit no word or act needed to maintain the rights and dignity of this nation.

Savannah Morning News: Germany has committed an act which our government said it would regard as "deliberately unfriendly." * * * It is difficult to see how our government can avoid severing friendly relations with her.

Louisville Courier -Journal: It is the last straw that breaks the camel's back. * * * The people en masse demand the suspension of all relations with Germany and we believe the President will promptly answer the summons.

Louisville Anzeiger: So far, we know nothing except what the British censor has passed. We do not know the circumstances of the sinking of the Arabic, but in spite of this, the Anglo-American press breaks into a clamor of war. Fortunately, the President and his advisers are cool and determined to wait until they are advised officially.

Buffalo Express: Here then is the deliberately unfriendly act which the President described in his note of July 23. The just and friendly protests of the United States government are set at naught. By this act Germany is insolently asking the United States: "What are you going to do about it?"

Rochester Post-Express: It is impossible to consider the sinking of the Arabic as other than a flagrant and contemptuous defiance of the principle which our government has asserted in its several notes to Berlin since the outbreak of the war.

The Mobile Register: Torpedoing of the Arabic repeats an action of which our government said the repetition would be regarded as deliberately unfriendly. Rupture of friendly relations would be the natural consequence.

Temple (Texas) Telegram: We hope the sinking of the Arabic can be explained as an error on the part of the commander of the submarine. Otherwise we trust the President to sustain American rights regardless of consequences.

ASKS LOWER ASSESSMENT

Mr. J. G. McCormick Appears Before Corporation Commission for Acme Company.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 20.—Mr. J. G. McCormick, of Wilmington, was here today appearing before the Corporation Commission in the interest of the Acme Fertilizer Manufacturing Company, of Wilmington, with a view to inducing the commission to reduce the new tax assessment that the commission has seen fit to impose on the corporation in the general reassment of corporations throughout the State. Mr. McCormick says there is a general improvement in business conditions in his section of the State.

The Corporation Commission heard today T. H. Gietner, president of the Piedmont Wagon Company, and the Ivey Manufacturing Company, of Hickory, on the question of reducing the tax assessment that the commission has made against these corporations; in the general re-assessment of corporations for taxes.

called upon to rescue several marooned families in lo wparts of the city.

The flood here was due to back water in the storm sewers in the western part of the city and to a big rise in the river Des Peres, which went out of its banks in the western and southern part of the city, flooded suburbs, interrupted train service and caused annulment of street car service to suburban towns.

KNOWN DEAD AROUND 100

Nearly as Many More Unaccounted for Along Southeast Texas Coast.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 20.—The number of known dead along the Southeast Texas coast as a result of Monday's hurricane tonight remained at approximately one hundred. Nearly as many more persons have not been accounted for.

During the day automobiles laden with supplies reached a number of the small hamlets cut off from wire communication and while a few additional deaths were reported ,the number was balanced by the appearance of persons who were believed to have perished.

BODIES PICKED UP

Twenty-Nine Other Bodies Said to Be on Dike Near Texas City.

Texas City, Texas, Aug. 20.—Six bodies were picked up yesterday on a dike near this city and the crew of the tender Rowan, which recovered them, said that 29 more bodies lay on this dike. It was thought that some of them might be those of men from the dredge boat Houston, wrecked three miles off Texas City. There are only four known survivors out of a crew of 44 from the Houston.

Major General Farnklin Bell said that in addition to the official death list of soldiers there might be more bodies in the ruins of the Thompson building which collapsed during the hurricane and fourteen bodies have been recovered. Nearly a full company of troops entered the building to escape the storm a few minutes before the walls fell.

General Bell and his staff have been working day and night. Soldiers of the second division are being sheltered in all sorts of buildings.

Military rule has been declared here. No person is permitted through the lines unless he can show good reason for a permit. Effects of the storm appear everywhere. Water three to eight inches deep covers many of the residence streets in the lower part of the town, especially near the bay shore. Many small houses were demolished and moved many feet out of line.

Only a few trains on one railroad have moved between here and Houston since the storm.

report that she was a troop ship. This was proven by maritime records which showed that she sailed from New Orleans August 1 for Avonmouth and Liverpool.

The Nicosian built in 1912 is a slow steamer and shipping men estimated that she was just about due to arrive in war zone waters. She carried no passengers.

Officials of the White Star Line were frankly anxious about the Lapland. The same report of disaster having overtaken her was current in Queenstown, too. A cable dispatch from there, however, that it was thought probable that the Lapland was confused with the Bristol liner New York City, which fell prey to a submarine yesterday. The New York city's crew of 53 and her captain were landed at Queenstown today. This vessel, likewise, was a British liner. She was a freighter and left this port July 26 with a cargo for Bristol which she landed safely. On August 18, the New York city left Bristol in ballast on her return trip. Her agents here received confirmation of her sinking late today.

Little Comfort Given.

The Queenstown interpretation of the disturbing rumors about the Lapland failed, however, to give much comfort to the Lapland's owners. The Lapland, a Red Star liner under charter to the White Star Line, sailed from this port with 318 passengers and a large and valuable cargo August 12. She was delayed two hours in getting away by the last minute arrival of a quantity of Virginia tobacco in hogsheads which had to be taken aboard and by the work of lashing several cases on motor trucks to her main deck. When she steamed down the Hudson it was remarked that she was loaded heavily and lay low in the water.

The usual rigid inspection of merchandise and baggage taken aboard was applied in her case, private detectives, aiding the officials in examining baggage.

She was expected to arrive in Liverpool late tonight or tomorrow morning and the fact that she was due in the war zone added to the apprehension of the line officials here.

Was the Arabic Convoyed?

P. A. S. Franklin, receiver of the International Mercantile Company, endeavored to learn by cable whether the Arabic was convoyed. The significance of an armed convoy, he said, was such that an entirely new aspect would be placed on the incident, should it be established as some reports have intimated, that a British warship was convoying her or her been convoying her a short time before the torpedo was fired.

Failing to obtain an answer to his inquiries, Mr. Franklin collected the newspaper reports of the sinking and the accounts of survivors landed at Queenstown. After he had digested them all, he announced his belief that the steamer had not been convoyed. He based this opinion, he said, on the printed accounts he had read and on his own belief that he would have been notified had there been a convoy.

Had the vessel been convoyed, Mr. Franklin agreed, she would have been subject to attack by a submarine without warning.

now holding more than 2,000,000 prisoners of war, of whom 1,654,000 are Russians.

"The achievement of German submarines in bombarding towns on the west coast of England has aroused great admiration. German papers express the opinion that the submarines evidently are able to do impossible things."

CAPTURE OF NOVOGEORGIEVSK.

Large Bodies of Troops Now Free for Use in Other Fields.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—By wireless to Tuckerton.)—Early this morning the Overseas News Agency says extra editions of the newspapers announced the fall of Novogeorgievsk, the capture of the fortress following closely that of Kovno, and again the city was bedecked with flags.

"Both fortresses," says the News Agency announcement, "are of much greater importance than was Warsaw and their capture leaves large bodies of troops free for other uses.

"The taking of immense quantities of war material at both places indicates that the Russians were prepared for a long resistance and their reduction by storm is hailed as a great achievement for the German troops."

JAGOW DECLINES REPLY.

To Question of Socialist Leader Regarding Peace Parleys.

London, Aug. 20.—Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent sends a dispatch received from Berlin which says that Gottlieb von Jagow, German foreign minister, declines to reply today in the Reichstag to the question of Dr. Karl Liebkeicht, a Socialist leader, as to whether the government was disposed to abandon its idea of annexation of any conquered territory and enter into immediate peace parleys if the other belligerent powers were similarly inclined.

"I think I have the support of a majority of the house," Herr Von Jagow is quoted as having said, "If I decline to reply, as the moment is unsuitable."

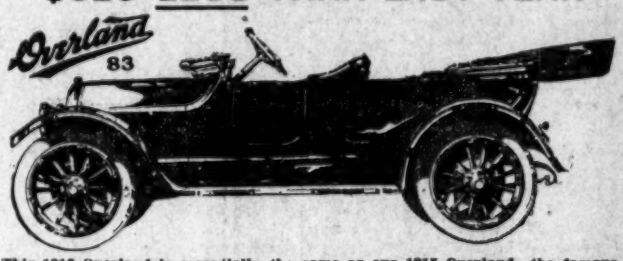
240,000 Persons In Wilmington

Would make the city one of the largest in the South. That is the total number of passengers carried on the elevators of the new Murchison Building since the building opened about a year ago. These elevators have, in that time, traveled a distance of 15,200 miles. They have made 468,000 round trips to the 10th floor. An average of 750 persons pass through this building every business day in the year. These facts mean service to the tenant. It means that if your office was in this building, your name on your door and on the building directory would be seen by these 750 persons. Before you begin another renting year in your present quarters, find out for yourself the advantages to be enjoyed in this modern office building. The reasonable rents make it possible for any individual or firm to consider taking space in the Murchison Building. Rents $12.00 and up. Our Renting Agent in Room No. 316 will give you further information.

$325 LESS THAN LAST YEAR



This 1916 Overland is essentially the same as our 1915 Overland—the famous Model 80 that sold for $1,075. It is the largest four cylinder Overland that will be produced this season. Demonstrations at our garage now. We're delivering them as fast as we can get them. Ask for specifications and literature.
